

ROBBERY THUGS ARE LOCKED UP

Report by Simon Stone

THREE robbers who went on a rampage around Dudley borough attacking women and teenagers have been jailed for a total of 20 years.

Saffie Ullah, Haseeb Choudhury and Yousaf Khalid had been driving around Dudley on the night of August 15, 2014, looking for victims who would be 'easy targets'.

They struck first at around 11.40pm when they pulled up alongside a couple on Windsor Crescent, Netherton, who were walking home after a night out.

The gang attacked them, stealing belongings that included mobile phones and cash.

Not content with the one robbery the group decided to continue their crime spree, driving around the area looking for their next victim.

She came in the form of a 20-year-old woman who was walking along St Peters Road at around 11.50pm.

But she proved not to be such an easy target and put up a fight. Then the robbers turned vicious, kicking and punching the victim because she would not give up without a struggle.

But after a sustained beating she suffered severe injuries that required treatment in hospital.

The thugs also damaged a house on City Road, Tividale, and just after midnight assaulted a man and woman on High Street, Dudley.

Weapons

Officers were alerted to the series of assaults and a description of the vehicle being used was issued to all patrols. Moments later, the car — an orange Seat Leon — was spotted and stopped by officers.

Found inside were weapons used in the attacks, including a golf club.

They had initially used a Fiat Punto in their search for victims.

Choudhury, 21, of Hill Crest Road, Kates Hill, Dudley, admitted conspiracy to commit robbery and two assaults at an earlier hearing and was sentenced to five years in prison.

Ullah, aged 21, and Khalid, 19, both of Bridgewater Crescent, Kates Hill, were both found guilty of conspiracy to commit robbery and two assaults and were sentenced to seven years and eight years in prison respectively.

Detective Constable Gareth Homer, from Dudley CID, said: "Their offending spree has affected six victims in four different offences. These men were systematically picking victims who they felt would be easy targets."

"I feel they would have gone on to commit more offences but thanks to the quick actions of the officers, they were arrested."

"The offenders will now spend a long time behind bars to reflect on their actions and I hope that this offers some comfort to their victims."

POPULAR POPPY ART TO MARK REMEMBRANCE

Mayor of Dudley Councillor Steve Waltho surrounded by thousands of poppies at Dudley Council House, which were made by local people

MORE than 2,000 hand-crafted poppies are covering the inside of Dudley's Council House in the run up to Remembrance Day on Sunday.

The poignant display, entitled Poppies Everywhere, has been created to mark Armistice Day on November 11.

Inspiration for the project came from the huge field of ceramic poppies that were on show at the Tower of London last year.

A total of 888,246 poppies were included in that display, representing lives lost in the First World War.

Poppies on display at the Priory Road council base were made using a variety of materials including glass, pottery, leather, paper and wool by adult learners and community groups across the borough.

Mayor

The Mayor of Dudley, Councillor Steve Waltho, said it was a remarkable display.

He added: "Since the First World War the poppy has come to symbolise those that have been killed in war and have also been used to commemorate that sacrifice."

"More than 50 groups, from across the whole spectrum, such as guide groups, people with learning difficulties, Age UK, just to name a few, have got involved, which I think is remarkable. It has now become a centre piece, which I'm very happy about."

The poppies will be displayed up until a few days after Armistice Day, when some will go to a display at RAF Cosford and some will be sold in aid of the Royal British Legion.

Towns and villages across Dudley borough will be marking Remembrance Day with parades and war memorial services on Sunday.

PLANNING

Mosque decision deferred by judges

A DECISION over the future of a controversial scheme to build a new mosque in Dudley has been deferred for judges to consider their verdict.

Court of Appeal judges heard two days of legal argument last week in relation to an area of land in Hall Street earmarked for the mosque.

Lords Justices Lewison and Treacy and Lady Justice Gloster have up to three months in which they can make their decision on the case. But it is hoped that a written judgment will be handed down before the courts rise for the Christmas break.

TALENT

Collabro to switch on Merry Hill lights

BOY band Collabro, who won Britain's Got Talent in 2014 with their versions of show songs, will be visiting Merry Hill for the switching on of the shopping centre's Christmas lights.

A weekend of entertainment is being organised on November 14 and 15.

The party kicks off at 11am on the Saturday with the switch-on at the main stage at 4 pm. Collabro and Old Men Grooving, who also took part in the TV talent show, will be performing. Santa's parade will take place from 3.30pm.

ATTACK

Stabbed teenager needed 20 stitches

A TEENAGER was stabbed in the street in Brierley Hill after he and his friends were set upon by another group of men.

West Midlands Police said the 19-year-old needed 20 stitches after the incident in Brettell Lane on Saturday at around 9pm.

Force spokesman Deb Edmonds said: "A man suffered a slash injury to his arm after being attacked by a man with a utility or craft knife."

The teenager was with a group of friends when they became involved in a dispute with another group of teenagers. Anyone with information should contact police on 101.

Head's delight over OBE honour

The presentation is made

A HEADTEACHER has spoken of his pride after receiving his OBE for services to education at Buckingham Palace. Andrew Griffiths was presented with the honour by Prince William and talked briefly with him about the present challenges facing education. Mr Griffiths was formerly headteacher of Ellowes Hall Sports College, in Lower Gornal, during a period of success for the school. During his leadership he took Ellowes Hall from near the bottom of the league tables to its current position as one of the leading schools in the borough.

He is now head of a multi-academy trust, called Invictus, which comprises secondary schools Ellowes Hall, Crestwood School, in Kingswinford, Ounsdale High School, in Wombourne, and Edgely High School, in Kinver. Mr Griffiths, aged 60, of Stourbridge, travelled to London with his wife Lucy, formerly headteacher at Jesson's CE Primary for 22 years, and daughter Ruth. "I am still overwhelmed by it all to be honest," he said. "Prince William presented me with the honour. He asked me what I thought the challenges for education were. I told him it was all about ensuring students get access to the best learning and the best jobs. "It was a wonderful occasion and an experience I will never forget," he said. Mr Griffiths has lived in the West Midlands since 1983 and his first post in the area was as a history teacher at Pennsett School. Mr Griffiths taught in Walsall for two years before returning to Ellowes as deputy headteacher. He recently spoke to the Princess Royal when she visited Himley Hall Sailing Club.

37,000 patients use urgent care centre

MORE than 37,000 patients have been through the doors of new urgent care centre since it opened seven months ago to take the pressure off a busy A&E.

The site replaced the walk-in centre at Holly Hall in Dudley. Since it opened in April, medical staff at the urgent care centre have seen 37,446 people with the most common illnesses being sore throats, coughs, stomach pains and rashes.

Health chiefs said the centre was helping to reduce the number of people attending A&E unnecessarily.

All patients needing urgent treatment arrive at the hospital through the emergency department.

They are assessed by a nurse who decides whether they need to go to the urgent care centre or the emergency department. If their condition is not believed to be urgent, they may be referred to their GP.

Health chiefs say this takes the decision-making out of patients' hands and should reduce the number of people being treated in A&E who do not need to be there.

Addition

Clinical director for urgent care Hassan Paraiso said the centre had been successful in reducing pressure on the emergency centre. He said: "The urgent care centre has been a great addition to the hospital and has helped to ensure our emergency department can be used appropriately, treating patients with life threatening conditions, serious illnesses or fractures."

Thirty new jobs were created when the centre opened and Malling Health was awarded the five-year £18million contract to run the 24/7 service.

The decision to close the Holy Hall walk-in centre proved unpopular with the community.

Healthwatch Dudley, which represents the views of patients in the borough, was drafted in to carry out an independent patient survey of people attending the accident and emergency department at Russells Hall Hospital and at the walk-in centre.

The results were then used by Dudley CCG to help with plans for the replacement service.

Scouts launch Poppy Appeal

Amblecote Scout Group selling poppies in Sainsbury's, alongside customer services manager Marie Cooney

AMBLECOTE Scout Group launched the Annual Poppy Appeal at their local Sainsbury's supermarket.

The group was supported by members of The Royal British Legion Riders Branch, who together with store colleagues and the Amblecote Royal British Legion, will be running this year's campaign in store, until November 11.

For the first time this year, members of the store "Craft-e" Community Club, will be donating their vast collection of knitted, sewn and crocheted poppies and poppy related items to boost the collection in store.

The ladies making up the group consist of colleagues family members and customers and first got together in August.

There will also be poppy inspired products on sale in-store, including jute bags and two flower bouquets, with all profits going to The Royal British Legion and for the first time, online customers will be able to make a donation and receive a stick on paper poppy, when ordering before November 11.

Last year, in honour of the Centenary of the First World War, customers and colleagues helped raise £7m for The Royal British Legion.

Customers will be able to recycle poppies in-store after Armistice Day, from the November 12 to 24, with all collected poppies going back to the Royal British Legion, to either make new poppies or to generate more funds.

Concern at figures for migrants in the region

MORE than 56,000 migrants have registered to work and claim benefits in the Black Country over the last six years, new figures reveal.

And the number of foreign nationals granted national insurance numbers soared by 39 per cent in just one year, according to the latest figures from the Office for National Statistics. The national average is 26 per cent.

In 2014 a total of 9,806 migrants registered to work across the region, a rise for 2,747 from the previous year. The figures also show that since 2008 a total of 56,027 migrants have registered for national insurance numbers in the Black Country.

Local councillors say they are concerned about the potential strain on resources prompted by influx of migrants, while an MEP has accused local authorities in the region of being 'pathetic and weak' for failing to stand up to the Government.

Last year Sandwell saw 3,808 new registrations, up 37 per cent from 2013, while almost 20 per cent of all residents in the borough were born outside the UK.

Wolverhampton saw 3,536 registrations, an increase of 34 per cent from the previous year. In Walsall there 1,559 migrants registered, a rise of 42 per cent.

Dudley saw the biggest rise with 903 NI registrations in 2014, an increase of 63 per cent. West Midlands MEP Bill Etheridge, also a Dudley councillor, said he was stunned by the magnitude of the increase in the Black Country.

Police step up patrols at park

YOBS have been starting fires and smoking drugs in a Stourbridge park.

Police will be increasing patrols around Swan Pool Park, in Norton, following concerns from residents.

The Friends of Swan Pool Park group is trying to bring improvements to the park, off Studley Gate. A £9,000 youth shelter has been installed alongside new benches. Officers claim they have been called to 'large groups of youths' congregating, causing anti-social behaviour.

Sgt Andy Holder, from Norton neighbourhood police team, said: "Increased patrols will be conducted by officers.

"Any youths seen causing anti-social behaviour will be encountered. Warning letters will be issued and proportionate use of stop and search powers regarding drug use."

Future of venue is back on agenda

DUDLEY Hippodrome's future is back in the spotlight after a deadline passed for interested groups to submit plans.

Dudley Council bosses are expected to reveal how many organisations have tabled bids to save the venue this week.

Problem of poor pitches prompts more investment

TWO fifths of sports pitches in Dudley borough are in a 'poor' state, according to a new report.

An investigation has found that only 87 of 167 pitches were found to be average or above average condition — and 70 were rated as poor.

It comes as council chiefs unveiled a scheme, worth up to £2 million, to create three new all-weather pitches at The Dell Stadium, in Pensnett, on land near Dudley College off Priory Road and at Hillcrest School, Netherton. But campaigners are urging for action over existing pitches after pitch hire fees were increased by two per cent this year.

Four pitches on King George V playing fields at Wordsley Park were among those in a poor state. At Greenfields, near Kingswinford Community Centre, the two adult football pitches are both rated as poor.

Brian Sutton, of the Dudley and Cradley Heath Football League, said: "Money has not been spent on these pitches for years."

Dudley councillor Khurshid Ahmed said: "We are passionate about encouraging people to lead healthy and active lifestyles through sport. We have to balance this with the significant cuts to our funding from national government, but we are working closer than ever with community groups to look at ways of delivering services differently."

"We are already investigating the potential for extra funding from the FA to improve pitches in three areas of the borough."

Vagrant found accommodation

ACCOMMODATION has been found for a homeless man who pitched a tent off Dudley high street.

Concerns were raised after the man arrived at Rutland Passage on October 20. Police arrested the man on suspicion of vagrancy and his dog was put in kennels. A team of officers have worked to find him accommodation in Lye and he and his dog have now been reunited.

A West Midlands Police spokesman said: "Our officers have finally been able to secure accommodation for a rough sleeper and his dog who had recently pitched a tent in Dudley."

"The officers had been trying to get the pair into a hostel. While in custody, our team worked with a range of specialists to fast track his case."

New zoo arrivals otterly adorable

Buddy and Keyah with the youngsters

IT has been a double celebration for a family of otters at Dudley Zoo after five youngsters started to emerge from the underground den where they were born.

The otterly-adorable babies were born to Buddy and Keyah around two or three months ago, according to keepers at the attraction, in Castle Hill.

Staff have caught glimpses of the pups popping out the den, called a holt. Fast thinking keepers were able to get the first photographs of the cute animals. In them, the youngsters can be seen being cared for by their doting parents while taking their first looks at outside.

And it has been a double celebration for the family as Keyah has just celebrated her sixth birthday.

Keepers at the zoo said because the youngsters were born underground it was difficult to know exactly when they had been born.

Section leader Jay Haywood said: "Although we do not know the exact date of birth of the five pups we think it was between two and three months ago. They are now starting to eat solid food and are looking for their own meals."

Mr Haywood said to help them along they were providing small chunks of meat and fish for them.

He added: "Even though they have only recently started to make an appearance they are doing well and getting more and more independent each day."

Buddy, aged 10, arrived at the zoo from Lake District Wildlife Park this April as a new mate for Keyah.

Keepers said the pair had felled for each other right away.

Drop-out daughter attacked her parents

A UNIVERSITY drop-out launched a savage attack on her parents when told to stop spending so much time in bed, a judge heard.

Hayley Robson hurled a half-pint glass at the head of accountant father Lee, badly cutting his wrist as he shielded his face, Wolverhampton Crown Court was told.

The furious 22-year-old then turned on her mother Rachel, punching her in the face and biting her forearm, said Mr Gurdeep Garcha, prosecuting.

Trouble flared at the family home in Green Meadow, Pedmore, on December 30 over the way in which the daughter's life had spiralled downwards since she turned to drugs and alcohol after leaving Worcester University without completing a business studies course.

"The discussion over the fact she did not have a job, was spending most of her days in bed and was not making productive use of her life became heated," continued Mr Garcha.

"The defendant, who had been drinking wine, threw a half-pint glass as hard as she could at her father who was sitting on the settee but managed to raise his hands to protect his face. The glass smashed into his right wrist, cutting it and damaging a tendon.

Punched

"Mrs Robson stood up and was punched several times in the head and face before being bitten on the forearm."

She received a black eye and bloodied nose.

The daughter then accidentally hit her brother Simon when he came into the room after hearing the commotion.

She was later arrested at a different address.

Her parents said in a victim impact statement that they both loved their daughter but were relieved she was no longer living at the same address since the atmosphere was much happier for their other two children.

Mr Richard Davenport, defending, said: "Their daughter has an underlying problem. She needs professional help."

"There is no application for a restraining order. It is hoped that the family can make up and resume contact in the not too far distant future."

Robson, now living in Queen's Cross, Dudley, admitted wounding and assault. She was given a 15 month jail sentence suspended under supervision for two years and ordered to co-operate with mental health treatment.

Ministry trainee Rachel Saffery, from Old Hill, at the Grade II-listed Holy Trinity Church in Old Hill, where a six-figure revamp is planned

£100,000 hope for church upgrade

AN historic church in the Black Country is putting plans forward for a six figure revamp, which will see it modernised for the community.

The Grade II-listed Holy Trinity Church, in Old Hill, near Cradley Heath, is looking to develop and create new seating, flooring, storage and office space, costing in the region of at least £100,000.

Church leaders are now inviting people along to their Vision Day on Sunday November 15 at 10.45am, which will lay out the Parochial Church Council's plans for the next year and encourage family members to support and contribute towards the project.

Churchwarden Rachel Ford, 55, said: "I'm very excited to be in the consultation stages with the proposal and looking forward to updating the local community and to hear their thoughts of our plans at the meeting in a couple of weeks."

"The church building has been part of the life and fabric of both the community of Old Hill and the Holy Trinity church family for almost 140 years."

NEWS IN BRIEF

22-room home plan turfed out

PLANS to turn a warehouse into a house of multiple occupation have been rejected. Krundil Developments wanted to turn the building, in Penant Road, Cradley Heath, into a home with 22 rooms.

Neighbours lodged eight objections, claiming they were not informed what sort of accommodation would be offered. There were also concerns over parking and increased noise.

It was refused on the grounds of insufficient recycling facilities, lack of off-street parking and the building being too close to another home.

Old Liberace car to go on display

Speed crackdown clocks 42 drivers

MORE than 40 drivers were caught speeding in an hour-long check on a road in Sedgley.

Campaigners hope the findings will convince Dudley Council to introduce more speed-calming measures.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

A READER says he cannot take much more James Bond. After so many trailers, guest appearances, premieres, interviews and the rest of the Bond balldoo, he feels he has already seen Spectre several times over. He asks: "Has 007 never heard of overkill?" Probably not.

SPARE us the surprise and the big, panky headlines over the World Health Organisations' latest claim that bacon and other processed meats can cause cancer. If you have the Full English Breakfast often enough, it may turn into the Full English Tumour. But this is not news. The link between meat, especially processed meat, and cancer has been known for years. A study of 500,000 Europeans concluded that those who eat two portions of meat a day increase their risk of bowel cancer by more than a third compared to those who eat it once a week. And that was in 2005. How quickly we choose to forget information we don't like. Or maybe bacon is seriously bad for your memory.

DOES a day go by without supporters of Jeremy Corbyn proudly boasting of his massive mandate? Corbyn took a whopping 59.5 per cent of the vote. That's 251,417 of the 422,664 votes cast and it looks impressive. But, lest we forget, the Labour-leadership election was open not only to existing Labour Party members but to the entire nation. Virtually anyone could pay £3 to register as a Labour 'supporter' and they had many weeks in which to do it. So here was a transforming event, a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for all the angry, disaffected folk in the UK to rise up and support a new sort of politics.

Here was a chance for 45 million potential voters to throw their weight behind a genuine Left-wing politician, for less than the price of a pint. Corbyn's 251,417 votes represents only about one voter in every 180 in the UK. That 'massive mandate' is maybe not so massive, after all.

SAUDI Arabia's ambassador to Britain complained a few days ago of a lack of respect for his country and deplored an "alarming change in the way Saudi Arabia is discussed in Britain." A couple of days later, one Saudi prince was detained in Lebanon following the biggest drug seizure in the history of Beirut airport. The next day, another Saudi prince was accused of assaulting three American women and holding them captive at a mansion in Beverly Hills. Respect? You earn it.

WE worry about a shortage of pumpkins forcing us to use turnips for Halloween lanterns... A few hundred miles away, on the borders of the Balkans, among that massive trudging queue of humanity, old folk and children, having survived the perils of the Med, will soon be freezing to death.

Civic Society first meeting 'positive'

THE first meeting of the new Dudley Civic Society has been hailed a success. Organisers say they believe the group will help attract new businesses to the town.

Fifteen people attended the public meeting at The Station Hotel in Castle Hill.

Steve Briscoe, who was instrumental in setting up the group, said: "It was an extremely positive evening, with a good turn out for a first event. We discussed what is good in the town and what needs to get better.

"The main thing was that everyone was singing from the same sheet.

"Our main focus was on enterprise within the town, and encouraging more town centre trade, from the likes of bigger name businesses and organisations. We would like to organise family events for the community too." The society is intended to be an outlet for ideas about the town, without being influenced by politics.

Mr Briscoe said Dudley Councilors were also willing to get behind the group, with plans to hold an annual general meeting next month.

"Our main hope is that more people can get behind us and frame the city and its people as positively as possible," he said. "There are a lot of stories about at the minute which put local towns and cities in a negative light as being bad places to live and work, but with this group we want none of that - only positive suggestions for how great Dudley is and can be."

Up to 150 jobs will go on offer at jobs fair

AROUND 150 posts will be up for grabs at a jobs fair being held in Brierley Hill next week.

It has been organised by Dudley South MP Mike Wood with more than 40 companies and organisations expected to taking part.

It will be held at Cable Plaza, at Waterfront West from 2-6pm on Thursday, November 12.

Mr Wood said more posts may be available as more businesses sign up to the event.

Among the companies already signed up to take part are London Midland, e.on, Virgin Trains, Dudley College, McDonald's, the Royal Navy, Royal Army Engineers and Barclays.

Conservative MP Mr Wood said many of the firms would either be recruiting or offering training opportunities with the majority of positions in the Dudley area.

"I helped organise jobs fairs when employed by other MPs. Therefore one of my priorities was to organise one once becoming an MP myself," he said.

"This will be an opportunity for local employers to advertise themselves to the jobs market throughout Dudley South and beyond."

Companies still have time to sign up for a stall at the fair.

They are asked to call the constituency office on 01384 913123 to reserve a free stall.

People interested in the job vacancies or taking up extra training are asked to simply turn up on the day from 2pm.

Free parking to give festive cheer

A BUSY Brierley Hill shopping centre is offering some early Christmas cheer by offering customers two hours free parking, running every day until the new year.

Visitors at the Moor Centre's 22 shops can now save money on parking. Matt Pegg, asset manager of London and Cambridge Properties, which manages the centre on behalf of owners Evolve Estates, said the decision had been made after listening to traders and shoppers.

He said: "We are keen to get people to shop locally and support their neighbourhood retailers this Christmas and believe offering two hours of free parking will make a significant difference to store owners in the Moor Centre and in the town.

"It will be a real boost."

Suspected stolen car hits lamp post

A MAN in his 20s was seriously hurt when a suspected stolen car hit a lamp post. The driver lost control on Wolverhampton Road, Sedgley, around 1am last Thursday. A second man in his 20s was arrested and bailed to allow him to receive hospital treatment.

£20m council cuts defended by leader

By Richard Guttridge

THE leader of Dudley Council has defended proposals to make £20 million worth of cuts over the next three years.

Dudley Museum and Art Gallery would close and up to 275 jobs would be axed under cost-cutting plans.

Leaders faced criticism from opposition members who claimed that cuts could have been tackled without harming services.

Councillor Pete Lowe came under pressure at the council's first cabinet meeting since the cuts were revealed last week.

Conservative leader Councillor Patrick Harley said the Labour-run council should have been better prepared to ensure such severe cuts affecting frontline services were not necessary.

"What's disappointing is not what's in this document but that for three and a half years Labour in Dudley has had the opportunity to make changes to the way services are delivered so that we manage our finances better than this," he said.

Stopped

"I said two years ago that if a different delivery model wasn't introduced we would continue to cut until some services were not provided any more. Austerity isn't new. Yet here we are with another budget and more services cut or stopped altogether."

But Councillor Lowe said the authority had been forced to contend with unprecedented Government funding cuts.

"We have seen significant cuts in Dudley, over and above that of elsewhere. We have seen cuts of £61 per person in Dudley compared to £18 in Windsor. How is that fair?" he said.

Finance boss, former leader Councillor David Sparks said: "We are facing even more horrendous cuts than we have already faced, they can't be compared to what we faced under the Labour Government."

Library opening hours could be cut with public toilets, dog bins and gritting lorries also in the firing line.

Rethink call on museum closure bid

Petitioners, front, Steven Briscoe and Ross Crompton and, back John Parman and Lynn Horton

CAMPAIGNERS say losing Dudley Museum and Art Gallery would be a big loss to the town centre and have vowed to step up their bid to save the building.

The St James's Road attraction, faces closure under wider plans by Dudley Council to save £20 million over the next three years. Council bosses claim arts and culture in the borough would not be harmed by its closure.

Artefacts would instead move to Dudley Archives and Local History Centre, in Tipton Road, near the Black Country Living Museum.

But campaigners say the move will take another attraction out of the town centre and further hit footfall for shops and the market.

Finance boss and former council leader Councillor

David Sparks said he supported closing the museum, as it was unsuitable for people in wheelchairs or with significant disabilities.

"My view is that it's better moving out to more suitable premises, selling that building and reusing the funds more effectively," he said.

Almost 3,000 people have signed a petition against the move which was presented to Dudley Council leader, Councillor Pete Lowe, ahead of a council cabinet meeting. Petition organiser, 25-year-old Ross Crompton from Upper Gornal, said it was important to retain town centre attractions.

NEWS IN BRIEF

EofE top bill at Mayor fundraiser

DUDLEY band EofE headline a fundraising gig in aid of the Mayor's five charities.

Councillor Steve Waltho will unveil a line-up of four local bands at the River Rooms in Stourbridge for the Mayor Rocks concert on Thursday, December 3 from 7.30pm.

Also appearing will be Black Country Rock, who cover AC/DC and Thin Lizzy tracks, Avalon UK and alternative rockers Burn Down Rydell.

Tickets cost £5 each and are available by calling 07412 531924 or emailing suzylinmesrde@hotmail.co.uk

Overhaul at pub damaged by fire

A PUB that was badly damaged by fire is to get a £325,000 overhaul.

The Moon Under Water, in High Street, Cradley Heath, was closed for two days in September following the blaze that was believed to have been started by a discarded cigarette.

It caused damage to the front entrance of the Wetherspoons pub, its structure and sign. Alongside plans for repairs, it has been revealed that a major revamp of the pub will also take place. The aim is to carry out the refurbishment before Christmas, with as little disruption as possible.

New-year start on community centre

A COMMUNITY centre finally looks set to be built in Dudley in 2016 — seven years after it was first proposed.

The facility has long been planned near the Donkey Pools playing fields on Priory Road but has ran into difficulties over funding and the site.

However, ward councillor Ken Finch said he expected work to begin in the new year. He said: "It has been a long battle but I'm pleased that it now looks like the community will get the facility that they deserve."

Have a say on issues at drop-in session

PEOPLE in Tipton can have their say on neighbourhood issues at a drop-in session tomorrow (Friday). It will take place at the Jubilee Park bonfire event from 5 to 7.30pm in the Community Tent, at the park, off Powis Avenue.

Residents in the Great Bridge, Princes End and Tipton Green wards can give feedback on how the council and its partner organisations have met 'ward pledges' agreed last year.

The session will also help set new priorities to improve the area.

Car hits block of flats

A CAR ploughed through a hedge before hitting a block of flats in Hagley after a crash with a truck. Part of Kidderminster Road was blocked off in the aftermath of the accident on Friday afternoon. The car hit a block of flats in Newlands Close but drivers of both vehicles escaped injury.

Temporary staff earn up to £800 for one day

CASH-STRAPPED Dudley Council is paying temporary staff in its beleaguered children's services department between £425 and £800 a day.

This amounts to the authority spending more than £200,000 on interim staff so far this year.

The council, which has just unveiled a drastic package of cuts, employs 12 temporary workers in its children's services department — at a daily cost ranging from £425 to £800.

The scale of the Labour-led authority's temporary staffing has been criticised by opposition parties.

New figures reveal a total of £204,000 will have been spent by the end of October on part-time staff in children's services.

UKIP group leader Councillor Paul Brothwood said: "Someone needs to be held to account as to why Dudley Council needs to employ 12 part-time people to put the mess of our children's services right."

Conservative group leader Councillor Patrick Harley described a 'catalogue of failure' at the council's children's services department at a meeting earlier this month.

In response, Councillor Ian Cooper said: "What we're doing is getting expertise in of national providence, and getting it in quickly and efficiently to do a job. I'd ask UKIP what price they would pay for the safety, well-being and aspirations of the children in Dudley. Those are our priorities."

"The interim staff have been brought in to do a job and they're delivering that job."

Chance to shape healthcare future

DUDLEY'S hospital trust is inviting members to stand for election to become a governor and be involved in shaping the future of the borough's healthcare.

Elections are open for vacancies in the public constituency of Stourbridge and the staff constituency of Allied Health Professionals and Healthcare Scientists.

Any member of Dudley Group NHS Foundation Trust is eligible to stand.

Chairman David Badger said: "Standing for election is a great opportunity for patients, their partners and carers to influence the way healthcare is provided."

Man accused after officer was bitten

A MAN will appear in court after a police officer in Tividale was allegedly bitten on the arm. Benjamin Pearce, age 22, of Hill Road, has been bailed to December 3 at Sandwell Magistrates Court charged with of assault.

First glimpse at £12m college campus

Artist's impression of the campus

THIS is the first glimpse of a new £12 million campus that will be built at Dudley College.

The new centre — to be known as Dudley Advance II — would complete the college's learning quarter and be part-funded by its controversial contract with Saudi Arabia.

The college has won a three-year deal to mentor staff in Saudi Arabia and create three new learning establishments. Cash from the deal was earmarked to help complete work on the Learning Quarter.

It will be positioned alongside the £7 million manufacturing and engineering building Dudley Advance which opened in September 2014.

A formal planning application has been submitted to Dudley Council for the Centre for Advanced Construction Technologies.

Principal Lowell Williams said: "Not only will Advance II be a fantastic building in itself, but more importantly it will help transform the construction industry in the region."

"This will lead to more young people and adults developing the higher technical level skills they need for future careers in a changing construction industry."

The new 37,000 sq ft centre includes specialist workshops, classrooms, project spaces and resource areas and student welfare and support facilities focused around a four-storey 'internal building site' called The Hanger.

According to a planning statement submitted with the application, the new centre will be a 'contemporary design which closely reflects the curriculum uses within, whilst paying sufficient respect in massing terms to its immediate context'.

Visitor numbers fall at top borough venues

THE number of visitors to four main venues across a Black Country borough has plunged by more than 20,000 in just two years.

New figures highlight a significant fall in demand at Stourbridge Town Hall, Dudley Town Hall, Brierley Hill Civic Hall and the Cornbow in Halesowen.

Between April 2012 and May 2013, the quartet of venues saw 136,103 come through their doors.

However, from April 2014 to May 2015, this number plummeted to just 115,695.

Councillor Khurshid Ahmed, cabinet member responsible for tourism, said there was no single reason for the drop in visitor numbers and the authority was working hard to attract people to its civic halls.

But Ukup leader Councillor Paul Brothwood said the decline in visitors was an indictment of the authority's backing for the arts and entertainment. He said: "I think this is a sad reflection of the council's support for the arts."

"We have great artworks and glass works in stores and there are so many pieces that people don't get to see. I believe it's the duty of councillors to uphold our heritage and sometimes that message is lost."

Heritage

"We need to get it out there and publicise the fact that we've got so many great works of art and amazing heritage."

"Let's get them on show rather than hide them away — then I think the visitor numbers would increase."

The number of people heading to Brierley Hill Civic Hall increased, however, from 28,476 in 2012-13 to 31,393 in 2014-15.

The reduction in the number of attendees at Dudley Town Hall from 37,607 in 2012-13 to 27,315 in 2014-15 can in some way be explained by the closure of the main hall at the setting.

Councillor Ahmed said: "It's difficult to say exactly why the visitor numbers have gone down but it could be linked to the economy and people spending less money."

"We are encouraging people to come, holding different events and trying to attract them to the halls."

"It's the same everywhere — pubs and clubs are also not as busy and people aren't visiting as much. I assume it's because people are trying to save money."

"The council is doing everything to support the arts and entertainment."

All shook up over rare Elvis disc

Valuer Ed Willetts from Aston's Auctioneers with the rare Elvis Presley acetate being sold this week

FANS of Elvis Presley have been left all shook up by the discovery of a rare recording that is due to be auctioned in the Black Country.

An acetate of Suspicion, dating back to 1961, was going under the hammer in Dudley this week.

The 78rpm record, which was made for Memphis radio station WHBQ, was expected to fetch around £12,000 at Tuesday's sale at Aston's Auctioneers.

The A-side features The King singing Suspicion four years before he released it as a single in 1965. It was not officially recorded as an Elvis track until March 19, 1962, so this acetate precedes that by at least six months.

The reverse features an advert for blind pianist Ray Charles's August 20, 1961, concert at Ellis Auditorium — the first mixed race show in Memphis.

Film poster and record specialist Steve Kennedy said it was a fantastic moment in social history and that the song was one of Presley's favourites.

"Suspicion was one of his personal favourites because he felt it allowed him to show his full range of vocal talent."

"The amazing thing about this record is that on one side you're getting a slice of social history and on the other you've got a rare Elvis acetate."

IN MY VIEW
with Mark Andrews

Man, that ridiculous PC crowd are back

REALLY. I should be livid that the politically-correct barmpots have taken it upon themselves to indoctrinate our children yet further by banning the use of phrases such as 'sissy' or 'man-up' in the playground.

Aside from the fact that I am fairly sure that no schoolchild has said 'sissy' since about 1975, I do think the way that the education system abuses its privileged position to brainwash impressionable youngsters with political correctness and green ideology is one of the most sinister developments of the past 20 years or so.

Particularly as it has coincided with Britain's schools plunging down the world league tables in the things that really do matter, like reading, writing, and doing sums.

Groups of pupils will also be encouraged to inform on their peers to an appointed "Gender Champion". Wasn't that sort of thing supposed to have died out with the fall of the Berlin Wall and all that?

And yet, strangely enough, I do find myself agreeing with the PC brigade on at least one aspect of this assault on free speech.

'Man-up' is a truly hateful phrase, and children really should be taught that it is never acceptable to use it. In this context at least, 'man' is a noun, not a verb. Yes, you can man a car park. But you can't man-up, man-down or anything else. That's why teachers should be telling them it's banned.

A NEW survey, compiled by a think-tank nobody has ever heard of, says Wolverhampton and Sandwell are the two most miserable places in the UK.

Really? I can't believe that. I mean what do people in the West Midlands have to be miserable about?

After all, it's not as if we are constantly patronised by a liberal London elite which seems to revel in forcing its strange values on us, is it?

AND I bet if the people in power actually did start listening to folk in this area, they could save a bit of money.

Over the past few months we have been repeatedly been told how ministers of successive governments were dazzled and 'mesmerised' by Camilla Batmanghelidj, and were persuaded into pouring millions of pounds into the appallingly managed Kids Company. All the evidence suggests that much of this money has been wasted.

Yet, I bet if they had sought the advice of anybody from the Black Country, they would not have been 'mesmerised' at all. They would have come to the same conclusion that I did several years ago.

That Camilla Batmanghelidj was just a fruitcake in silly clothes. And think how many police stations that cash would have paid for.

Mary continues fight over asbestos deaths

One mother is seeking justice for workers who may have been affected by asbestos.
ADAM BURLING reports

MEN working long shifts in dust-filled factories, with no thought for health and safety and there is not a mask in sight.

This may sound like a scene from generations ago – but it has been happening as recently as the last 20 years.

And ex-workers are continuing to die after developing asbestos-related diseases.

The issue is now becoming more prominent than ever as manufacturers face court cases from the families that have been left behind.

In the Black Country, one woman is using her anger and grief over her son's death to make sure other people are not left in the same position.

Mary Law's fight began when her son Roy Shipley died at the age of 51, after a career working as an electrician in factories where he was exposed to asbestos.

Campaign

Since then she has been battling for greater compensation for the families of asbestos victims.

Now the 77-year-old from Dudley has taken her campaign to Italy where a ruling against the boss of a firm which allegedly contributed to the death of hundreds was overturned. Mrs Law, whose son died in 2010, opened the Arc-Aid charity shop in New Street, Dudley, four years ago.

After getting involved with the Mesothelioma UK charity, she became aware of the case against Swiss billionaire Stephan Schmidheiny who was accused of failing to ensure the safety of workers in asbestos-cement plants run by his now defunct Eternit group in Italy in the 1970s and 80s.

More than 3,000 workers died. He was convicted in 2012, after a three-year trial, and sentenced in absentia to 16 years in prison. But a court in Rome has since ruled that he should not have been convicted because the verdict came more than 12 years after the crime.

This made the case subject to a 'limitation' law. Mrs Law and fellow protesters waved banners and placards outside the Italian court and is planning to attend an appeal hearing in Belgium.

"I'm furious about what has happened. I'm very angry about the lack of support for the families of victims," she says. "In this country the Government is not ensuring that people get enough compensation.

"My son had mesothelioma of the abdomen and didn't stand a chance."

A court ruling in 2013 meant thousands of sufferers and their dependants in the UK will be able to get damages from a special £350 million pot over the next decade.

Those diagnosed after July 25, 2012, who cannot sue former employers as they have gone bust or insurance details were lost, will be eligible.

Mrs Law says thousands of families are not getting enough compensation.

About 2,400 people die every year of the disease and numbers are set to increase over the next 30 years, with an estimated death toll of between 56,000 and 63,000.

It comes as a cross-party group of MPs have called for the eradication of all the remaining asbestos in Britain's workplaces and public buildings.

A report by the all-party parliamentary group on occupational safety and health calls for regulations requiring the safe phased and planned removal of all the remaining asbestos in Britain.

The parliamentary group found asbestos is still a serious threat.

This year, according to official figures, 5,000 people in Britain are likely to die prematurely as a result of asbestos exposure.

This is around three times the number of road accident deaths.

Research

Aside from campaigning, Mrs Law also works as a chiropodist and is a dedicated fundraiser, recently scaling the heights of Mount Snowdon in aid of Mesothelioma research.

She completed the walk up the highest Welsh peak with husband Bill, aged 80, and friends Ian Halls and Ian Edgington, to raise nearly £2,000 for charity.

She has undertaken a number of charity events, including a sky dive in 2011, to raise funds into the research of the disease following the death of her son.

She is determined to keep going – and in the process raise the profile of the battle facing the families of people who died after being exposed to asbestos.

The memory of her son will stay with her throughout, and keep her going in the fight for justice.

She says: "Losing my son was devastating, he was a strong, lovely man who had achieved much. If I could have done something like I am about to do to have saved him, I would have done so willingly."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

Lack of media interest in speedway

IN 1960 I went to my first speedway meeting and have followed the sport ever since. I started in Edinburgh, then Wimbledon, Halifax, Coventry and now Cradley. I have always been pleased at the way in which the sport has welcomed families.

No problems with fans mixing together – no trouble. Even going to Poland and seeing the way in which we were welcomed.

But unfortunately, we have lost tracks for housing, other sports and because of the 'noise'. Changes have been made to accommodate these issues, with silencers being one. But now we have to put up with a curfew that councils have imposed. Last week's Cradley meeting was stopped due to the curfew. We had only had ten heats but the meeting was finished due to this restriction.

The other part of being a sport that is ignored is in the coverage that we get in the media. When we have a world champion who is British the general media is lacking in its support. Please help us celebrate our success before we are robbed of our sport.

Petition on art gallery closure bid

LIKE many people, I am deeply concerned with Dudley Council's proposal to close Dudley Museum and Art Gallery.

As custodians of the museum, the council should be looking at ways to protect and promote it, not discard it and deprive our town of yet another piece of its illustrious history.

I recognise that cuts have to be made, but not at the cost of such a significant asset. Councillors have suggested the relocation of the museum's treasures elsewhere in the borough, but that misses the point; the town has already lost so much over the years, it cannot afford to lose anything else, and deprive future generations of a chance to explore their heritage.

I have created a petition, urging the council to reconsider their decision. I implore anyone who feels the same way to sign it.

The petition can be found at: <https://you.38degrees.org.uk/p/savedudleymuseum>

Legislation could benefit thousands

ON 6 November, MPs will have the chance to support an important piece of legislation that could benefit hundreds of thousands of patients across the UK.

The Off-patent Drugs Bill would improve access to low-cost, effective treatments for a range of conditions – from breast cancer to multiple sclerosis – and I would urge our local MP to support it.

The bill would ensure that drugs that have fallen out of patent, but have since proved effective for clinical uses outside of their original licence, are routinely available on the NHS.

With these drugs often being very-low cost, it makes economic as well as clinical sense for them to be more widely available. Backed by the UK's largest breast cancer charity, Breast Cancer Now, along with a host of other charities including Prostate Cancer UK, Alzheimer's Society and Bloodwise, the Bill needs 100 MPs to vote in favour to take it to the next stage.

More work needs to be done to secure the parliamentary support it needs.

Time is running out, so as well as calling on our MP to back this bill that would help hundreds of thousands of patients, I would ask others to join me and add their support to the campaign by visiting breastcancernow.org/unlockdrugs

Disposables cost more

WITH regards to reading the letter in The Chronicle (October 22) by E Ward Davis about people who can't afford terry nappies shouldn't have children.

Let me tell you, it's more expensive to buy disposables than terry nappies.

The fact you have dogs and because of the 5p carrier bag charge your attitude is 'I will not pick my dog poo up'. You can buy a 100 poo bags for a £1 so my answer to you is 'if you can't afford poo bags don't have dogs'.

Let's just hope you can afford the fine of £75 per dog for each time you leave your dog mess on the street.

Irresponsible to not clean up

REGARDING the letter by E A Ward-Davies 'Not happy over smelly nappies' (Chronicle, October 22).

Is your issue with disposable nappies or the fact you have to now pay 5p for a carrier bag?

How irresponsible of you to not clean up after your four dogs.

Maybe you should take a leaf out of your own book and stick a terry nappy on your pooches or buy some poop bags. If you can't afford them, don't have dogs.

LISA BUTCHER

Don't have dogs

I AGREE with the comments about babies' nappies (Letters, October 22). However, I say to the writer 'if you can't afford poo bags you shouldn't have a dog!'

Lemur the merrier for new zoo arrivals

New ring-tailed lemur arrivals Itzy and Bitzy with their mother Phoebe at Dudley Zoo

MEET Itzy and Bitzy – the tiny lemur twins born at Dudley Zoo. Keepers thought the names would suit the twin ring-tailed lemurs as they are still small despite being just over two months old.

The youngsters were born on August 21 to parents Phoebe and Frank. They are doing well and getting to know their siblings, twin males Nelly and Kelly, big brother Spock and big sister Freya in the mixed lemur exhibit.

Section leader Pat Stevens said: "Even though they were born two months ago the pair are still very small and the names Itzy and Bitzy seemed to suit them."

Upper primates senior keeper, Sophie Dugmore, said: "The new twins are doing really well and Phoebe is a very good mother. This is her seventh litter and she is very experienced and calm with the youngsters."

The animals live in groups of up to 30 individuals in which the females are dominant; a trait common among lemurs.

To keep warm and reaffirm social bonds, groups will huddle together forming a lemur ball.

Teenager loses his bid to cut sentence

A TEENAGER who hit a man over the head with a bat causing 'catastrophic and life-changing' injuries has failed to get his 18-month sentence overturned.

The 17-year-old, from Dudley, who cannot be named, was given a detention and training order at Wolverhampton Crown Court on June 19 this year.

He was convicted of causing grievous bodily harm but acquitted of attempted murder and causing grievous bodily harm with intent. Two others were cleared of all charges.

By Lee Watton

Mr Trevor Siddle, representing the teenager, told London's Court of Appeal that the conviction was 'unsafe' because the judge had misdirected the jury.

But Lady Justice Sharp said the argument was 'unconvincing' and the judge's direction an 'eminently fair' one. The court heard the victim, 37-year-old Tariq Mahmood, had suffered injuries including skull fractures and brain haemorrhages in the attack.

He needed surgery to remove a large part of his skull and lost the sight in one eye. Mr Mahmood now has problems with his memory, is unable to work and requires round-the-clock care, the appeal court was told. He also has weakness to the right side of his body and suffered permanent disfigurement.

The teenager, who is 6ft 2ins tall and weighed 16 stone at the time, said he had 'no recollection' of hitting Mr Mahmood and said it must have been an accident. Mr Mahmood was attacked outside his home in Dudley after going to help his 19-year-old stepson Ajmal Choudhary, who was fighting with several people.

Mr Siddle argued the sentence was too severe because of a lack of pre-meditation, his client's age and previous good character. Lady Justice Sharp said: "We are satisfied the conviction is safe."

Unfortunately the 'traditional' conservatory polycarbonate roof offers no insulation properties at all making the 'too hot too cold' scenario only too common. Most of the sun's heat is conducted in the summer into the room making it unpleasantly hot for normal use and conversely in the winter months it can be virtually impossible to keep most conservatories warm because the roof allows any heat to escape.

Replacement Beryl is in fine voice

West Mids Federation

THE West Midlands Federation of Townswomen held their annual Harvest Lunch in the Wollaston Room at Stourbridge Town Hall on October 7.

The event was attended by 90-plus members. Chairman Margaret Tew gave a warm welcome to everyone. Margaret then said Grace. This was followed by a two-course meal, prepared and served by the Federation committee. Thanks were given to Margaret Bache who also lent a helping hand on the day.

Following the lunch the chairman introduced the entertainer for the afternoon, Beryl Briscoe. She is also known as the Black Country nightingale.

Beryl is a very talented singer who sang a wide variety of songs starting from the war years through to the 60s and 70s and finishing with a little bit of opera. She added a bit of humour with a few jokes which had everyone laughing.

She very kindly stepped in at the final hour when the original entertainer could not make the day. The chairman gave a vote of thanks to Beryl on members' behalf. Thanks were given to the committee for a very enjoyable afternoon. Everyone had thoroughly enjoyed the meal and the entertainment.

The next event being organised by the Federation will be the carol service at St Thomas's Church, Market Street, Stourbridge on December 12 at 2.15pm. Hot drinks and mince pies will follow in the church hall.

Alan wings in with facts about owls

Kingswinford TG

KINGSWINFORM Guild met on October 12 in the community centre in High Street. The advertised speaker was unable to attend, but happily Alan Peace stepped in at very short notice to fill the gap.

He spoke about the life of the barn owl, with many surprising facts to correct the false impressions anyone may have. He also talked about the World Owl Conservation group which is attempting to save many threatened species. He was thanked by Joyce Major.

A name the doll competition was set in motion to help boost the funds of the Wednesday Club which have become somewhat depleted. The doll is a little beauty, knitted by Brenda Greenaway, who was unable to be present. In November the Wednesday Club is an open night to which gentlemen are invited. Chris Smith will speak about some unusual things made in the Black Country.

Kath Turner was thanked for her delightful flower arrangement which she donated as a raffle prize. Prizes were won by Sue Wilson and Enid Fennell.

Members planning trip to Hagley Hall

Wollaston 'E' TWG

CHAIRMAN Jean Latham presided over the October meeting, welcoming 43 members and three visitors. Apologies followed, after which the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting which were duly passed and signed. The treasurer then gave a favourable report on financial affairs.

It was announced that a thank you card had been received from Macmillan Nurses for the donation made from the guild's summer tea party.

Sub-section reports followed. It was related that the bowling match with the Sons of Rest had been a great success, enjoyed by all, and had finished the season off very well. A visit is planned for June next year, to the grounds of Hagley Hall, possibly followed by afternoon tea.

The speaker Ian Drury gave a very interesting talk on the life of the Portland Vase. It is thought that the subject originated in Rome in 525AD, and may have been made as a wedding gift. It is now displayed in the British Museum. Members showed their appreciation in the usual way.

It was requested that members wishing to attend the Christmas Party on December 8 pay £5 at the November meeting.

Raffle prizes went to Carol Longmore and Jill Forest, while the competition was won by Ann Turner and Julie Willetts.

The next meeting is at 7.30pm on November 10 at St James Church Hall, Wollaston, when Nigel Wiggin will speak on Old Hall stainless steel.

Traditions of festive period

THE next meeting is on Thursday, November 12 at 7.30pm in St Andrew's Church, Bilston Street.

The speaker will be Mary Bodfish, a favourite with local history groups and chairman of Smethwick Local History Society.

Mary's illustrated talk follows the traditions and customs of the festive season through the ages. Along the way there are

Sedgley Local History Society

Pagan festivals, Roman ceremonies, the Nativity, Tudor feasting, Victorian embellishments and much more.

As usual visitors are invited, admission is £1. Annual membership costs £5 and gives free access to the programme of talks.

Rowers close in on target ahead of oar-some task

A PAIR of intrepid rowers are edging closer to their fundraising target before they set off on a gruelling trip across the Atlantic Ocean.

The team needs to generate another £14,500 to reach the £85,000 total and compete in what is known as 'The World's Toughest Race'.

The SquareOneAtlantic team is made up of biology teacher Lee Felton, aged 30 from Dudley, and software engineer Sean Lannon, 31 from Newcastle. Over the past 12 months the dynamic duo, along with former member, Tom Hodgson, 41 from Walsall, have been collecting donations and sponsorship.

They will be crossing the Atlantic Ocean from La Gomera, in the Canary Islands, to Antigua, raising awareness for charities Rape Crisis England & Wales and Sport for Freedom. They will set out to row the 3,000 miles across the Atlantic unaided on December 14, for 40 continuous days and nights.

Mr Felton said: "I've been involved in some difficult and challenging projects – but this is a completely different ball game. It would be the challenge of a lifetime and also help thousands of people through the charitable work it would fund. I am utterly determined to do this."

The pair, who already have a vigorous training regime in place, will row in two-hour shifts 24 hours a day in an attempt to raise well over £100,00 for the two charities.

The team is looking for corporate sponsors who want to put their logo on their webpage, clothing, and on the boat. To support the project visit www.squareoneatlantic.com or check out their Twitter page @squarelatlantic

Councillors arrange monthly surgeries

COUNCILLORS in a Dudley borough ward have organised a new monthly surgery. They hope it will benefit people unable to attend current weekend sessions.

Cradley and Wollescote Councillors are running a six-month trial surgery at the Providence Methodist Church in Windmill Hill. They began this week and will run every first Tuesday from 11.30am to 12.30pm until April next year.

It is hoped members of the public who can't get to the existing weekly Friday night and monthly Saturday surgeries will take advantage of the new dates.

Ward Councillor Gaye Partridge said: "People are more often than not asking to meet, sometimes this is because their case is complicated, or because they just want to speak to someone face to face.

"We are also finding that there is a small group of people who for one reason or another struggle when it comes to using phone-based services.

"What ever reason this is a chance to catch up with your councillor and sort out any long standing or difficult issues."

'Injustice' claim by leaders in mosque row

MUSLIM leaders say they have a 'sense of injustice' over their plans to build a new mosque in Dudley.

As the battle returned to court, top judges heard leaders blame council officials for the delays over the building.

Dudley Muslim Association (DMA) and Dudley Council took their dispute to Court of Appeal in London. The association is fighting to stop the council seizing back land in Hall Street which it had earmarked for a new mosque.

The DMA suffered a blow last year when the High Court blocked an appeal against an earlier ruling. A judge had stuck out the DMA's defence against council plans to reclaim ownership of the site.

At the latest hearing, the DMA was asking the appeal court judges to overturn the High Court judgement.

By Andrew Turton

Treacy and Lady Justice Gloster said the failure to extend the deadline was 'unfair'.

It would have been 'appropriate' for the council to extend the deadline 'to allow for the delays brought about by the council', he said.

He told the judges the DMA 'have a great and understandable sense of injustice about their treatment at the hands of the council'.

The council contests their argument. "This is, at heart, a dispute between two properly advised parties to a commercial property transaction," their lawyer, Timothy Morshead QC said in written arguments.

It is believed judges will reserve judgement to a later date.

DMA leaders had tried to avert the court hearing by making a £325,000 out of court settlement to the council.

If the settlement offer had been accepted, the group would have retained ownership and the council would have ended its bid to invoke its buy-back clause. But this was unanimously rejected.

Remand for suspect in robbery attempts

A MAN has been remanded in prison on suspicion of trying to carry out four shop robberies across Dudley in little more than two hours. Unemployed Lee Cartwright, from Brompton Drive, Amblecote, was arrested in Tipton.

It is alleged Cartwright was involved in an armed robbery attempt at Premier Stores in Malvern Avenue, Lye, at 7.25pm on September 27, and failed in another robbery at an off licence in Quarry Bank High Street 30 minutes later.

The 24-year-old is also accused of stealing cigarettes from Kingsway Stores in Kingsway, Wollaston, at 9.25pm before a last unsuccessful raid on a chip shop in Hill Street, Brierley Hill, at 10pm.

He has appeared before Dudley Magistrates Court charged with three attempted robberies, one robbery and one count of possessing an imitation firearm with intent to cause fear of violence. He will next appear in Wolverhampton Crown Court on January 26.

STAY WELL THIS WINTER

Keeping those ailments at bay

Winter conditions can be seriously bad for our health, especially for people aged 65 or older and people with long-term conditions.

The cold and damp weather, ice, snow and high winds can all aggravate any existing health problems and make us more vulnerable to illnesses that are more common in winter.

Being cold can raise the risk of increased blood pressure, heart attacks and strokes. But there are lots of things you can do to stay well this winter.

Feeling unwell?

Don't wait – get advice from your nearest pharmacist. Winter can make existing health problems worse. So if you feel like you're coming down with something, even if it's just a cough or a cold, don't wait until it gets worse. Act quickly. Pharmacists are fully qualified to advise you on the best course of action.

Is your medicine cabinet ready for the winter?

Most common winter ailments, such as a cold, sore throat, cough, sinusitis or middle ear infection, can't be treated with antibiotics. The best thing to do is:

- Rest
- Drink plenty of fluids
- Have at least one hot meal a day to keep your energy levels up
- Talk to your pharmacist for advice on getting any pain relief you need such as paracetamol or ibuprofen.

Take medicines as directed

If you've been prescribed antibiotics or any other medication, make sure you take them as directed.

Make sure you get your flu jab

The flu virus strikes in winter and it can be far more serious than you think. That's why the flu jab is free if you're aged 65 or over. Just speak to your GP.

A MAJOR drive to help people stay well this winter has been launched by Public Health England and NHS England.

The NHS Stay Well This Winter campaign is urging people aged 65 or over, or those with long-term health conditions, such as diabetes, stroke, heart disease or respiratory illness, to prepare for winter with advice on how to ward off common illnesses.

The campaign is asking the public to:

- If you start to feel unwell, even if it's just a cough or a cold, then get help from your pharmacist quickly before it gets more serious.
- Make sure you get your flu jab if eligible.

- Keep yourself warm – heat your home to least 18C or (65F) if you can.

- Make sure you get your prescription medicines before pharmacies close on Christmas Eve.

- Always take your prescribed medicines as directed.

The Stay Well This Winter campaign will make sure that people have the information they need to help them look after themselves this winter and also to know the best place to go for urgent advice, whether that's their local pharmacy, NHS Choices, NHS phone number 111 or accident and emergency.

As in previous years the flu vaccine programme is an important part of this campaign.

The adult flu vaccine will be offered free to those in groups at particular risk of infection and complications from flu including those aged 65 or over, those aged under 65 with long-term health conditions, pregnant women and carers.

Vaccination

This year, for the first time, all our youngest primary school children will be eligible to receive the free nasal spray vaccine, making this the largest school-based vaccination programme in England involving children in 17,000 schools.

The children's flu vaccine programme will seek to help more than three million two to six year olds, as the programme is extended to children in school Years 1 and 2.

Parents are encouraged to complete consent forms in order to allow immunisation teams to administer the nasal spray flu vaccine to their children.

For those children in areas where the vaccination is not offered through schools, they will be offered the vaccination at their local GP or pharmacy.

Are you 65 or over?

If you feel like you're getting a cough or a cold, get advice from your pharmacist before it gets more serious.

FOCUS ON KINGSWINFORD AND WALL HEATH

Hundreds motor in to open day at car manufacturer

MORE than 250 car enthusiasts visited a Black Country manufacturer as it opened its factory doors for the day.

Westfield Sportscars, based in Gibbons Industrial Park, in Dudley Road, Kingswinford, gave petrol heads the chance to view 20 of the factory's finest assembled cars.

The firm was celebrating after winning a £1 million contract in China to gain a foothold in the huge Asian market.

By Clare Butler

Special offers on kits and parts were also on display at the open day took place from 9am to 3pm on October 24. The company has been trading since 1983 and has sold more than 12,000 cars worldwide. They produce more than 400 cars a year.

Simon Westwood, sales and marketing manager, said: "We are pretty much an open factory anyway so the event which we run twice a year always attracts a lot of people who are really into their cars."

Display

"It went really well, despite the weather not being as good as we hoped, we still had a good amount of visitors with some of the hardened enthusiasts turning out. At our open days we display cars ranging from the ones we need to build to the ones that are ready to go out."

"We have lots of people arrive in their own Westfield cars too. This year we were working with staff to make a carbon chassis and a lightweight rotary engine, which were also on display."

Westfield host their open days in March and October.

The firm recently completed three years of negotiations for its British designed and manufactured cars to be distributed in Asia via GD Aero Technology of Shanghai. The move safeguards 20 jobs in Kingswinford.

In June 2009 they became the first niche vehicle manufacturer to be awarded European Small Series Production Status with the new land mark Sport Turbo. The lightweight design chassis of the vehicle saw an influx of orders from around Europe. In 2013 the MegaS2000, which utilises the Honda S2000 engine and gearbox, was also launched. Westfield also work alongside Birmingham City University students to involve them in their projects.

Company boss Julian Turner, who joined Westfield in 2006, was awarded an honorary doctorate from Birmingham City University in January this year. He previously worked for BAE Systems and Boeing.

Parade in village to remember

WALL Heath Scout group have helped organise the Remembrance Day parade and service in Wall Heath on Sunday.

The parade leaves the Royal British Legion headquarters in Envile Road at 10.30am and takes a route to the Church of the Ascension via Envile Road. The service starts at 10.45am.

All sections of the group will attend including beavers, cubs, scouts and the brownies and guides.

Organiser Tom Bunce said: "Ex-servicemen and police lead the parade."

"The service is an outdoor one regardless of the weather with all around the cenotaph and two village church ministers officiating."

"From the church the parade returns to our headquarters for thanks, dismissal and soup. Everyone is invited to either parade or attend the ceremony."

Micropub bid turned down

A PLAN to turn a shop into a micropub in Kingswinford has been turned down by Dudley planners.

Stourbridge's Pig Iron Brewery had applied for a change of use for a retail unit in the Charterfield Shopping Centre. Proposed opening hours were from noon to 10.45pm Monday to Saturday, 2pm to 10pm Sundays and Bank Holidays. Councillors rejected the plan due to 'highway safety concerns' and a 'loss of residential amenity'.

Get to grips with an iPad

A FREE iPad taster session helping people to get to grips with some of the basics will take place in Kingswinford this month.

The session will be at Kingswinford Library on Thursday, November 19, from 2pm to 4pm. Call (01384) 818162 to book.

No fixative, no surgery and the potential to fix denture stabilisation problems

Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS (Eng) with dentist Dr Polly Mineva, and right, technicians working on suction technology dentures

DENTAL technician Steve Morris carefully crafts a denture, ensuring that a small aperture on the side of the prosthetic will be able to accommodate a tiny valve.

The denture looks like any other, but the clever diaphragm development to help hold it secure can give it the edge over its traditional counterparts.

"It's clever stuff," says Steve (GDC 142474), "a small diaphragm seals off a one-way valve under bite pressure, creating a vacuum between the denture and gums. The result is a better fit to the soft tissues and improved resistance to any dislodging forces created by eating and speaking."

Steak for dinner

For the right person, the Ultra Suction Solution can remedy common denture stability problems without surgery and messy fixatives.

"We recently manufactured a second prescription for a patient. We knew the fit was as perfect as it could possibly be, but I was amazed when they called the lab to tell us they'd been on their initial 'test run' with a steak for dinner.

"The patient was very happy with the outcome," adds Steve.

The Suction Solution option attracts the biggest number of inquiries at the Denture Clinic in North Street, Dudley.

Principal Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS(Eng) GDC 108353, who heads the team at his multi-disciplined practice says: "We have always endeavoured to be on the very cusp of clinical development and this device is another useful option in our commitment to try to deliver results greater than patient expectations."

Historically, lower dentures can present stability problems as the jawbone erodes with age. With traditional dentures this can cause lower teeth to move and result in painful friction problems on gums.

The suction device can be mounted in upper or lower dentures and due to its efficiency the size of the acrylic 'plate' can sometimes be reduced, improving speech and taste.

"I need to stress, however, the option is not suitable for all, but a single, free initial consultation would determine whether it could be the way forward. We never sell solutions here, but provide honest, comprehensive, clinical appraisals that help patients make informed choices," says Steven.

To achieve an harmonious fit, Denture Clinic prescriptions are 'set' using a Biofunctional Prosthetics System (BPS) which helps accurately replicate natural teeth anatomy during the production process.

"The fit is stunningly accurate," he adds.

Typically, denture patients will be assigned more than three-and-a-half hours of surgery time in achieving the best possible outcome.

Scanner

The Denture Clinic operates hand-in-glove with Steven's North Street Dental & Implant Clinic operation.

"Having everything under one roof - denture provision, general dentistry and dental implant provision - gives us a huge set of solutions and a deep pool of clinical skill from which we can draw.

"With a 3-D scanner, modern and air conditioned surgeries and a creative team, I believe we are strongly placed to tackle most problems," says Steven.

Steven, whose clinics attracts patients from as far as Portugal, Spain, the Isle of Skye and the Isle of Anglesey, adds: "Implant dentistry is the ultimate, long-term solution for denture stability problems, but it is not suitable for everyone, neither is it all patients' first preference.

"The beauty of the suction technology is that it has the potential to deliver in the right patient excellent retainer qualities without the complex clinical procedures required for implant work."

Two are hurt in blackspot crash

TWO people were taken to hospital after a crash at a notorious junction on Birmingham New Road.

Two cars were involved in the accident at 7am on Friday on the Wolverhampton-bound carriageway at its junction with Shaw Road near Coseley. Both vehicles were severely damaged and long delays built up as the road was closed by police.

Claire Brown, spokeswoman for West Midlands Ambulance Service, said two people had been taken to New Cross Hospital, a man in his 20s with minor head injuries and a woman who had abdominal pain caused by seatbelt injuries.

Councillor Malcolm Gwinnett, of Spring Vale ward, said the latest accident shows the junction at Shaw Road and Birmingham New Road needs an urgent overhaul.

Black Country is hit hard as Caparo sheds 323 jobs

A TOTAL of 323 workers have lost their jobs after steel giant Caparo shut down three Black Country plants.

Staff at five sites in Darlaston, Oldbury, Dudley, West Bromwich and Cradley Heath were called into meetings with administrators last week to be informed they were being laid off with immediate effect.

Administrators from PwC confirmed that 323 jobs have gone across the five plants, leaving workers devastated.

Many of those who have lost their jobs had been with the firm for decades.

Caparo Atlas Fastenings in Heath Road, Darlaston was worst hit with 122 workers made redundant.

A total of 68 jobs have gone at Caparo Precision Tubes in Oldbury, as well as 64 at Caparo Forging Europe in Dudley, 59 at Fairbright Wire in West Bromwich and 10 at the Cradley Heath CMT Engineering plant.

The Darlaston, Dudley and West Bromwich sites were closed with immediate effect.

The business, which was the biggest manufacturing company in the Black Country with 1,700 workers across 20 sites, was put into administration earlier this month.

Plants in Hartlepool and Tredagar have also closed as part of a total of 452 redundancies.

Matt Hammond, PwC partner and lead administrator said: "It is with regret that we have made these decisions, but the commercial prospects of the affected businesses render them unviable."

He added that more than 1,200 staff remain employed in Caparo Industries. "They continue to work and be paid as normal," he said.

Flat windows are blown out

TWO people went to hospital after a fire in a first-floor flat in Brierley Hill.

Fire crews were called to the three-storey converted house in Stourbridge Road, Holly Hall, at around 8pm on Thursday.

Residents heard a loud bang as the windows of the flat blew out by the force of the blaze.

Three people at the flat had managed to get outside by the time paramedics arrived.

Two people made their own way to Russells Hall Hospital to have a check-up after the efforts of smoke inhalation but the other person did not require further treatment.

Crews from Brierley Hill, Haden Cross, Dudley and Oldbury, went to the scene.

Magnificent send-off for fan

Jim Morris and Dave Parsons rode the horse-drawn hearse to the funeral

THERE was a Wild West send off for a cowboy enthusiast who had his coffin carried through town in a horse-drawn carriage during his funeral procession.

Michael Whittaker, a former canal lock keeper and an avid collector of Wild West memorabilia, died from a heart attack aged 76 at his home in Brierley Hill last month.

More than 200 people turned out for his funeral in Brierley Hill on Thursday, many having donned Western outfits to give him a fitting farewell. Staff from the funeral director's also dressed as cowboys as they rode the horse-drawn carriage.

Michael's coffin was carried in to the theme music from The Magnificent Seven and tributes included a floral wreath in the shape of a saddle. The enthusiast's favourite cowboy hat was placed on his coffin.

Some of his vast collection of memorabilia was placed around the altar at St Michael's Church in Bell Street South.

Michael's brother Tony, aged 71, said the funeral had been a fantastic send-off for his older brother.

He said: "It was fantastic. As the horses came through Brierley Hill they behaved absolutely perfectly. Then we had the theme tune from The Magnificent Seven playing as the coffin was taken into the church."

"A lot of Mike's memorabilia had been prepared at the front of the church and the coffin was pushed into the memorabilia — that was beautiful. It was definitely a funeral with a difference."

Michael and Tony's cousin Ron Didlock, 68, said the funeral summed up Michael's personality. "He had a wicked sense of humour," said retired bus driver Ron.

Red Lion Street where the Perry family lived

Tony Perry as a young boy playing with his friends in Red Lion Street

All the world's a stage – or at least the back garden at No3!

I WAS about four when we moved house to Red Lion Street. In the 1950s this was longer than now. Where the 1960s Telephone Exchange extension stands there was a block of houses, Nos 1 to 4, let to council tenants.

Another block of four, fronted on to an alley, with a cemetery for St Peter and St Paul's Catholic Church and a pair of semi-detached houses.

The alley led, as Paternoster Row, up the hill, to North Street. Past the cemetery was a final block of four houses before the junction with Wadham's Hill, where the Ring Road is now at a lower level. The houses were built in 1926, as shown by date plaques with the Wolverhampton Corporation Coat of Arms.

Our house was No 2, and a high privet hedge above a low brick wall hid a small front garden with tulips, daffodils and nasturtiums. At the end of the tunnel entry you reached the backs of numbers 2 and 3, where the gardens were at a higher level, reached by steps. My best friend in these years was Geoffrey Leo. Although he lived at Wednesfield, his grandparents, Mr & Mrs Wythe, resided at No 3, and his mother or father would bring him to Red Lion Street regularly.

MEMORY LANE

By Tony Perry

The family's business was making and selling ice cream. Other friends of ours in the street were John Hendley at No 5, Sally Eades at No 6, replaced by a younger Sally Ormerod, Paul Makin at No 7, Lesley at No 10, Jane at No 12, Patrick Greatrix at No 13 (my next best friend after Geoff), and later on Jimmy and David Silcock at No 14.

John, a lifelong Wolves expert and supporter, was to become in later years a folk singer and successful co-ordinator of folk clubs in the area.

Paul was an actor, before becoming a successful script-writer of television comedies. He sadly died of a brain tumour at the age of 54. Patrick ran a popular hardware business in Wolverhampton. In the 1950s playing in the street was second nature, and we had the imagination to make up different games, dramas and shows, mimicking the stars seen on television or in films. The raised back garden of No 3 might be a stage, with Geoff's younger brother John using the inside part of a punch-ball as a microphone, belting out Frank Ifield's "I Remember You".

Fever

Play would often take place in the alley, and occasionally stray over the wall into the Catholic Cemetery.

However, any parents hearing us would order us out, with the dire threat that we would "catch the fever" in there. No one ever explained what fever, and how it could be caught. It was another world – a wilderness of overgrown trees and bushes hiding old gravestones – certainly a good place for adventure.

Work starts on £5m care home scheme

BUILDING work has started on a 66-bed care home that will create 50 jobs. The new home in Kent Road, Halesowen, is due for completion in September next year.

The £5 million three-storey facility is being provided by Black Country Housing Group and built by LNT Carehome Development.

It will provide high-quality residential care as well as up to 32 beds and specialist care facilities designated for people with dementia.

The 30,580 sq ft property in Kent Road will include en-suite bedrooms for people aged over 55. The scheme will comprise six two-bedroom, semi-detached independent living bungalows. The opening of new facility in 2016 will also create 50 jobs.

Deputy Mayor of Dudley, Councillor Mohammed Hanif, attended a sod-cutting ceremony along with Christine Cooper, managing director of LNT Carehome Developments.

Janette Beckett, director of care and social business at Black Country Housing Group, said: "Our investment in this new residential care home represents BCHG's commitment to build on our existing care offer to help enhance the quality of life for local people living in care."

Mrs Cooper said: "We are really excited to be working with BCHG on this project."

Support for pubs revealed in survey

A SURVEY carried out by Dudley North MP Ian Austin has shown massive support for local pubs and breweries.

Three-quarters of the people polled said they had attended or hosted an event at a local pub, and nine out of 10 supported Mr Austin's campaign for the community value of pubs to be properly considered in planning decisions.

However, 95 per cent said owners should take more responsibility for anti-social behaviour.

Mr Austin is pushing to reduce the price of a pint through a cut in beer duty.

He said: "Dudley has a thriving pubs and brewing industry, and I'm delighted to see that local people are getting behind it."

"I'll be using this survey to support my campaign for measures such as further cuts in beer duty to keep the price of a pint down, keep pubs open and protect jobs."

Motorbiker died after crash with a minibus

A MOTORCYCLIST from the Black Country died in a crash with a minibus after buying a bike against his wife's wishes, an inquest heard.

Nigel Christopher Thompson died of multiple injuries after the smash on the A489 between Kerry and Sarn, near Newtown, on August 2.

The 49-year-old from Quarry Bank, who had been a keen motorcyclist in his youth, gave up biking while his children were young and only bought the Kawasaki Z100 in March.

His wife Nicola told an inquest at Brecon Court via a statement, that she had not been happy about him getting a new bike and even said to him she would become 'a biker widow'.

But she said it made him happy, she remembered seeing his face when he bought it and his daughters bought him the biking leathers.

Stephen Evans was driving a Dial-a-Ride minibus and was accompanied by Carol Clayton and Ross Embrey on a trip to a fun day at Churchstoke, when the accident happened.

Braked

He said as he approached a right hand bend near Penygelly Mill he saw a motorcyclist travelling towards him on his side of the road.

He said it looked as though the bike was out of control as it was upright and it was weaving from side to side and wobbling around.

Mr Evans said there was another motorcyclist travelling behind on the correct side of the road.

He said he turned the steering wheel and braked hard but he said he knew there was going to be a crash.

"The last time I recall seeing the motorcyclist he was raising his hand," he said.

"I do not know why the hand was raised, I do not know if he was apologising because he knew what was going to happen," said Mr Evans. After the crash he got out of the minibus, called the emergency services and found a helmet.

Biker Darren Groves had been in a group of motorcyclists with Mr Thompson and was travelling behind him at the time.

He said the group would often go for a ride on a Sunday if the weather was good and they had travelled from the West Midlands to Craven Arms and were heading for Barmouth.

He told the inquest that at the bend Mr Thompson had tipped the bike into the bend, started to drift and the brake light came on, smoke came from the rear wheel, the bike sat up and he went across the road into the incorrect carriageway.

"Nigel was on the floor and the bike was between his legs and he was sliding along the floor and the bike slid into the path of the minibus," he said.

He said he stopped and went to look for his friend in the hedgerow, when he found Mr Thompson's bike in the hedge he looked at the bus and realised his friend must be underneath it.

Dyfed Powys Police collision investigator Constable Garry Rees said there were no defects on the road or with either vehicle that may have caused the collision.

Powys coroner Andrew Barkley said Mr Evans could not have done anything else. He said the cause of the death seemed to have been driver error.

Mr Hand with one of the pears, which he hopes will take off again

Paul Hand at his home in Lentwardine who is helping to re-introduce the Tettenhall Dick Pear

An illustration of the once highly-popular fruit

BRITAIN'S rarest pear – the Tettenhall Dick – is making a comeback from the brink of extinction.

"They look stunning and taste fantastic," says Paul Hand who has spearheaded a major replanting of 1,000 Tettenhall Dick trees around the Black Country.

He adds: "We have planted a large number and have succeeded in keeping the Tettenhall Dick pear as part of the Black Country landscape."

Tettenhall Dick trees were found in abundance along the streets and in back gardens of the Black Country.

But after the Second World War their popularity plummeted with trees torn down for redevelopment and a culture shift away from people growing their own food.

Mr Hand has fond memories of scrumping the pears in his childhood.

"At the turn of the millennium I decided to get off my backside and do something," he said. "I felt it was important. I went to Regis School in Tettenhall and I remember seeing a JCB ripping up the trees I used to scrump and the image stayed with me ever since then."

From his home in Leintwardine, Shropshire, he is making Tettenhall Dick wine and next year hopes to produce Tettenhall Dick Perry – a firm Black Country favourite from bygone times.

He said: "They are part of Black Country history. As a schoolboy in Castlecroft I would scrump them. Because you would bite into them before they were ripe they were hard, hence the saying 'Tettenhall Dick, hard as brick'.

"They didn't have a very long shelf life and were not fantastically juicy.

"It is a variety of pear that is more than 500 years old and from the pre-industrial Midlands.

"It spread far and wide with people telling me they had them in Cannock and as far away as Lichfield.

They were in everyone's gardens.

"My mother would never bottle them, so recently I thought I would try it and they tasted superb – just the sort of thing you would eat at a posh restaurant.

"They are real gourmet quality. They are absolutely fabulous. I find if you cook them for a few minutes and then put them in the freezer to preserve them it has the same effect and it is not as fiddly."

He has planted a Tettenhall Dick tree in Bantock Park in memory of his mother and 60 in Baggeridge Country Park.

A further 50 are in a fruit farm which he hopes will start selling them. Hundreds of others have been planted at schools and homes.

To re-introduce the pear trees he had to combine young wood samples from a Tettenhall Dick tree with rootstock – a process known as grafting.

He collected samples from Regis Road in Tettenhall and The Straits in Gornal. He said: "You slice and bind it. The trees don't grow from seeds. You have to join the wood with the roots and it will combine and grow.

"It is just like how Bramley Apples are made and all come from the original trees. So the Tettenhall Dick we grow today can be traced back to the time of just after the Norman Conquests."

Mr Hand runs a charity Bees & Trees that specialises in rare fruit. As well as lecturing he also trains people on plant grafting.

He is planning to hold a Tettenhall Dick party next year around September when they will be ripe to pick from the trees.

He said many people would make perry and wine from the pear but after the Second World War the fell in popularity.

Indeed he is making his own wine and next year plans to produce Tettenhall Dick perry.

"Fruit and tastes moved on and they fell in popularity," he said.

"It is my opinion that they originated in the Manor of Perton. The Manor of Perton disappeared and the pear got called Tettenhall Dick being the next place along."

Many people believe Perton's name derived from the fruit, 'Pear-town'.

"Pears have been in the doldrums for a long time," he said. "But I expect they will make a comeback. Joan Morgan who wrote the Book of Apples which has become the Bible of apples has just published the Book of Pears.

"The Tettenhall Dick is included and I expect that will help. People are now interested in food and I am sure this will help the Tettenhall Dick pear become trendy."

Mr Hand is now trying to get individuals to buy their own Tettenhall Dick tree so they can grow their own.

Coleridge trail left Ange in Esteesees

By Danny Farragher
WE'RE all guilty of missing the history on our doorstep.

Often other people point out what's interesting or historic about what we pass by every day.

This happened to folk singer Ange Hardy in a spectacular way.

What is remarkable is not just that she was unaware of one of world's most famous romantic poets, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, literally being under her nose but also the way she addressed the shortfall in her knowledge.

Hardy lives in a little village just outside Watchet, Somerset which is about half way along The Coleridge Way, a trail the poet famed for such epics as The Rime of the Ancient Mariner and Kubla Khan walked. She however was blissfully unaware of the significance of the route.

"I think having left school really early and my past of running away and being out of the education circles from about 13 onwards I was just never in the right place or with the right people to learn about Coleridge."

"I didn't even realise Coleridge was a he, I thought it was just the name of the walk. So I really had no idea at all."

The idea then of basing her new album Esteesees – which is how the poet liked to sign himself, on him and his works seem even more bizarre.

"My husband came up with the idea. He started talking about Coleridge and said I should write a song about him."

The idea then formed into an entire album in Hardy's mind. "It was

Ange Hardy will be performing her new album in Birmingham a huge risk," she admits. What lay ahead for the acclaimed singer/songwriter was a massive cramming session.

"I spent about two weeks with my head buried in books from morning to night and listening to readings. Then I just pieced together all the bits that inspired me." Ange Hardy is performing songs from Esteesees at the Kitchen Garden Cafe, King's Heath, Birmingham on Monday November 9. The show starts 8pm and tickets are £9 in advance or £11 on the night. Visit www.kitchengardencafe.co.uk and www.angehardy.com

"They're the genuine article"

Harry James (Thunder, Magnum), Adam Wakeman, who played keyboards and acoustic guitar for Ozzy Osbourne) and Black Sabbath and Heartland vocalist Chris Ousey.

They perform classic twin-guitar based rock. A spokesman for the band said: "With a live set comprising material from their critically-acclaimed Snakecharmer album, coupled with such Whitesnake classics as Ready And Willing, Fool For Your Loving,

Take Me With You, Walking In The Shadow Of The Blues and Here I Go Again, Snakecharmer is the genuine article."

Snakecharmer are currently writing for the follow up to their self-titled debut album. Tonight's concert is the only chance to see the supergroup locally as they also perform in Sheffield, Glasgow, Newcastle, London and Cardiff during the nine-date tour. Call 0844 477 2000.

Reid all about it as twins top bill

TWIN brothers Craig and Charlie Reid will have Birmingham rocking when they perform at the New Alexandra Theatre this weekend.

The duo have tasted huge success around the globe with the likes of Letter From America, Sunshine on Leith and I'm Gonna Be 500 Miles, enjoying gold and platinum singles and albums in UK, USA, Canada, Australia and New Zealand in the process. They perform on Sunday (November 8).

The second city also plays host to 80s legends ABC the following evening at the Symphony Hall.

The Institute hosts Twenty One Pilots on Monday and Nell Bryden the next night.

Funnyman Kevin bridges the gap

IT'S comedy central in Birmingham this week as a number of top acts perform.

Scottish funnyman Kevin Bridges sets the ball rolling with his brand new show, A Whole Different Story, at the Barclaycard Arena tomorrow night (Friday).

Also on at the Barclaycard Arena, on Saturday, will be Harry Enfield and Paul Whitehouse.

Elsewhere in the city, Bridges will vie for top billing with Jimmy Carr tomorrow night as he plays the Symphony Hall.

He will be followed by ventriloquist Nina Conti who is at the Town Hall on November 11.

When comedy and ballet mix

THE boys are back in town... in size 12 pointe shoes. Hurling through the classical ballet repertoire with their inimitable blend of skill, grace and wit, Les Ballet Trockadero de Monte Carlo perform at Birmingham Hippodrome next week.

Enjoy show-stopping Swan Lake (Act II), Merce Cunningham-inspired Patterns in Space, Go For Barocco, a satire on Balanchine's choreography, and the delightful Don Quixote on Tuesday and Wednesday (November 10 and 11).

For the Tuesday show there is a chance to attend a post-show question and answer session given by troupe members.

It's all happening BIRMINGHAM

The traditional chicken red curry is the county's best

Mini money bags – the duck dim sum

The chicken satay was a favourable way to start the feast

Fine dining – raise a glass to quality Thai food

Chef Suree's a winner as King and Thai retains its number one crown

THAI cook Suree Coates is one of Shropshire's most decorated chefs, having been named the UK Thai Chef of the Year a couple of years back and then bettering that by being crowned the Asian Chef of the Year.

More recently, her qualities have been recognised by The Good Food Guide, where inclusion is hard to come by; in Shropshire, only seven restaurants feature.

The King & Thai in Broseley is listed in that as a Local Gem and deserving of inclusion. Suree is one of the county's best. Arguably her greatest ability is to fashion exciting and exotic flavours that are deep, rich and rewarding.

Her freshly-made sauces and pastes are heavenly. She learned how to make them while growing up in her native Thailand, where she used a pestle and mortar to combine freshly-picked herbs and aromats. She uses the same techniques to this day – and it shows. Suree offers dishes that offer the same flavours that you'd find in downtown Phitsanulok. Her flavours are vibrant and subtle; explosive and entertaining. She's a crackerjack cook who has as good an understanding of Asian seasonings as any chef in the county.

By Andy Richardson

My friend and I have eaten at The King & Thai frequently. For this critic's shilling, it remains the county's number one; with Ludlow's Chang Thai Bar and Shrewsbury's recently-opened Aroi Thai not far behind. Suree moves ahead of her good-but-not-better rivals on most fronts: principally presentation, innovation and flavour.

When we arrived, the helpful and bubbly waitress showed us through to the dining room. It was festooned with Buddhas, colourful photographs and other Thai ephemera. The menu featured the normal Thai classics in addition to numerous specials. Starters include a duck dim sum with plum sauce. Alongside that was a Thai custard, served in a mini pumpkin, with prawns.

My friend opted for the duck dim sum while I ordered chicken satay. Both were delicious. The dim sum – some crunchy-fried and some soft-and-steamed – were light and boldly seasoned. The plum sauce was swirled concentrically across the plate and provided a balanced accompaniment.

The satay was brilliant. My friend and I swapped dim sum for satay in an impromptu game of Thai mix'n match.

We thought long and hard about the daily specials before ordering the county's best Thai red curry and the county's best

Thai green curry. Neither disappointed. Both oozed subtle and delicate flavour. The chicken and vegetables that were contained had been lightly cooked while the presentation was as pretty as a picture.

Rather than request dessert, we asked the chef to choose. She provided a tasting platter, including a playful coconut panna cotta, an indulgent chocolatey, fudgy cube that was dense, rich and satisfying and more. The only underwhelming element was a deep-fried ice cream sandwich.

Suree deserves all credit for pushing the envelope when it comes to Thai cuisine. Unlike most local, neighbourhood chefs, she creates imaginative dishes, daring to combine different ingredients to fashion something new.

Her presentation is delightful, her flavours exemplary and there's not a finer Thai restaurant in the region.

Experience one of the world's most compelling cities, Rome, with probably more to see here than in any other capital.

Enjoy a guided tour of baroque Rome, both flamboyant and elegant in nature. See Piazza Navona, Rome's most famous square, lined with cafes and restaurants, and arguably the city's social centre, full of street entertainers and artists.

Admire the Vatican, home to the Pope, largest church in the world, St Peter's, inside the Sistine Chapel, one of art's greatest masterpieces and the Trevi Fountain. Also included is a fascinating tour of Ancient Rome, the greatest empire of its time. The tour features sights such as Palatine Hill where there are the remains of the lavish villas of the elite, including the Emperor.

The day also includes a visit to one of the most famous centres of entertainment: the Colosseum, the scene of some of the most cruel acts ever committed.

A final excursion is a timed visit to the Villa Borghese, housing some of the city's finest museums, with artefacts showcasing Rome's history, plus one of the world's greatest fine art collections.

The stars shine brightly in aid of a good cause

How to transform yourself from smooth-talking professional to dribbling idiot in one easy move – host a live TV show.

Those watching at home may think standing in front of a camera and reading an autocue is easy, but for presenters, it can be a living nightmare - especially if something goes wrong and they're left to fill in 'dead air'.

Arguably the biggest and most difficult live TV event of the year is Children in Need, thanks in no small part to the fact it lasts for such a long time. What's more, this year it's being broadcast on Friday 13th – surely a recipe for disaster if ever there was one?

Well, maybe not. After all, it's in the safe hands of Terry Wogan, who seems to thrive on such occasions. He will be joined for the first part of the evening by Tess Daly, who is no stranger to live TV, having co-hosted Strictly Come Dancing with, initially, Bruce Forsyth and latterly with Claudia Winkleman, for the past 11 years. But even she could learn a thing or two from Sir Terry who makes the whole process seem completely effortless – perhaps it's because he's so affable and always does his best to make those appearing in the studio at their ease.

"I'm not a confrontational interviewer," explains Wogan. "It would be easy to be abrasive, but nobody would want to come on the show. Sometimes an interview I think didn't go well was actually very good, and vice versa. You're not always the best judge yourself."

Despite retiring from his radio show, Terry is as busy as ever, but he claims he'll always have time for this fundraiser.

"It is always a privilege and pleasure, the highest point of my year, to present BBC Children in Need," he says. "This year we are hoping the great British public will give us even more. We've certainly got a fantastic show line-up this year. I know I say that every year but this year really is special."

Although the BBC's first Children's Appeal arrived in 1927, the first television version didn't appear on our screens until 1980, and the aim each year is to beat the previous total. Seeing as a record £32, 620, 469 was raised on the night in 2014, the fundraisers have a tough task ahead of them, but hopefully the public will be inspired to dig deep by the serious stories they hear as well as the entertainment on offer.

Among the highlights on offer during the first, two-and-a-half-hour stint are performances by Ellie Goulding, the Children's Choir, Rod Stewart and Jess Glynne, who performs the evening's official song, Take Me Home.

Also popping up is a Strictly special, which sees Bruce Forsyth return to the ballroom to host an edition featuring the stars of Call the Midwife – has their colleague Helen George, who is currently taking part in the dance challenge, been giving them tips?

Then, in the second half after the news, Rochelle Humes and Nick Grimshaw take over from Daly and help Wogan keep the ball rolling into the wee small hours.

Tess Daly presents Children in Need 2015, Friday, BBC1, 7.30pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY
The Shopper's Guide to Saving Money, Channel 4, 8.30pm
We work hard all week, perhaps hoping to let our hair down by indulging in some retail therapy once we clock off. With that in mind, it would be nice to think that when we do splash out, we're getting value for money. But is that the case? This new, four-part programme introduced by Dave Fishwick and Kate Quilton hopes to answer that question by investigating whether we really do get our money's worth for goods and services. They hear from big corporations and industry insiders about how much certain products cost to make before offering tips on securing the best deals for such items as jeans, airline tickets, diamonds, perfume, gas bills and even funerals. But they begin by looking at the cost of taking care of man's best friend before delving into the world of printer ink.

TUESDAY
MasterChef: The Professionals, BBC2, 8pm
New series. Six aspiring chefs compete in the cookery contest, beginning with a test of their basic skills. The first contestants must make the French dessert, a Floating Island, while the remaining three have to cook a blue steak with a green peppercorn sauce in 15 minutes. Finally, the six chefs cook their own signature dish for judges Monica Galetti, Gregg Wallace and Marcus Wareing. It is their last chance to show off their culinary talent before three of them are sent home, and three become quarter finalists.

WEDNESDAY
Cuffs, BBC1, 8pm
What makes this series stand out from all the other police dramas is its impressive ensemble cast – and they've got plenty to do in this episode. Donna and Lino are on the hunt for an escaped prisoner, but despite the pressure from on high to find him as quickly as possible, they are forced to suspend their search when they come across a life-threatening situation. Elsewhere, a distressing domestic violence case leads Jake and Ryan to come to blows, but when Jo is called in to deal with the fallout, can she persuade the victim to testify against her abusive partner? Meanwhile, Carl joins forces with Felix to look into a spate of muggings that have all targeted private school boys, and in the process gets a new insight into his reclusive boss.

Peep Show, Channel 4, 10pm
New series. The last series of the comedy saw Mark and Jeremy get mildly electrocuted in a field, abandoned by Dobby despite their declarations of love. The final series begins with Mark working in a bank and having a new flatmate, while Jeremy still refuses to apologise for falling in love with Dobby, at least until the time is right. However, the pair have to put their differences aside to help Super Hans maintain his newly clean and healthy lifestyle, and Jeremy's resolve is tested when he becomes in urgent need of a loan.

THURSDAY
Tom Jones & Rob Brydon: One Big Night, BBC1, 8pm
Rob Brydon hosts this spectacular night of comedy and music, which is in aid of two very good causes – it's not only raising money for Children in Need, it's also paying tribute to one of Britain's best-loved music legends, Tom Jones. As you would expect, Jones will be performing with his band, but he'll also be joined by some very special guests, including James Morrison, Laura Mvula, Dame Evelyn Glennie, The Shires and Chickenshed. And while the music was recorded live the SSE Arena, Wembley, on October 8, there will also be some pre-recorded comedy sketches, looking back at some of the key moments from Jones's long and illustrious career, including a special mini-episode of Brydon and Steve Coogan's series The Trip.

FRIDAY
Live International Football, ITV, 7.30pm
Spain v England (Kick-off 7.45pm). Coverage of the friendly match from Estadio Jose Rico Perez in Alicante, featuring two sides that qualified convincingly for Euro 2016. Reigning European champions Spain won nine and lost just one of their group matches, while Roy Hodgson's men went one better, boasting a 100 per cent record. The sides last met in a friendly in November 2011, when Frank Lampard's goal gave England a 1-0 win at Wembley. Mark Pougatch presents.

Individual, stylish ADAM

By Bob Hickman

Vauxhall has been a long time coming to the supermini party, and it is an area in which it has missed out on of thousands of car sales. But with the very quirky ADAM it is now entering the section with relish.

The Adam is just over 12ft long, slightly longer than a MINI, and at 6ft 6in wide (if you include the mirrors) is one of the biggest in its class, slightly bigger than the Fiat 500 and the Audi A1.

Vauxhall has continued the fun with the name of the trims – they call them, Jam, Glam and Slam. Slam supposedly for a sporty ride, Jam is fashionable, and Glam is the comfortable classic for the more mature owner.

The body colours also get rather strange names in James Bond, Saturday White Fever and Buzz Light Green. In fact, the Adam is a car for all people. Over a million combinations of interior and exterior specifications make virtually no ADAM the same as another. Your bespoke vehicle starts with the order list.

Vauxhall hopes the ADAM will reach not just the committed Vauxhall but attract those not previously considering the brand.

The ADAM itself is based on a Corsa platform which has been reduced – this gives you an indication of the size of the vehicle. There is a choice of engines, with a 1.2-litre, 1.4-litre and in my particular case for this test, a delightful 1-litre 3-cylinder 998cc engine, producing 115bhp and a very commendable low CO<sub>2</sub> emission, which puts it in to the £30 per year tax bracket.

The combined fuel figures are quoted at 57mpg and I achieved 49mpg during my week on varied road surfaces, which I thought was quite reasonable.

All the models in the range get as standard, air conditioning, remote central locking, a decent radio system, and there is also an option for a centre control screen which can display your phone, satnav and various other items.

From a driving and passenger perspective the ADAM, being in the small category, is a vehicle that has surprising qualities. It will comfortably seat four people but there will then be a luggage issue. Primarily, the ADAM is not really suitable to family life but it makes a very pleasant second vehicle.

Drawbacks I found were the three-door access to the rear was awkward. And the driver and passenger doors are huge. This translates in to requiring a large amount of space on a car park just to open the doors and allow driver and passengers to exit.

‘Over a million combinations of interior and exterior specifications make virtually no ADAM the same as another. Your bespoke ADAM starts with the order list’
 .....

I really enjoyed driving the car, the engine seemed to be perfectly tuned to the size and the dynamics of the suspension, and the handling at all times was comfortable, precise and relatively comfortable.

All in all, the ADAM is a vehicle that allows you to customise to your heart's content, and when you see some of the variables in the colour schemes and add in the extras which can be incorporated on the interior, there will be some interesting ADAMS on the road.

I worry, however, in two or three year's time when you take that highly customised vehicle to the dealer, what the reaction will be.

I well remember a very vivid-coloured Peugeot 206 cabriolet I owned some years ago, and the dealer saying we will never sell it in that colour. Time will tell who is right and who is wrong.

Prices start from £11,575.

Buckle up for smooth ride in the new BMW3

By Matt Kimberley

You'll need your strongest magnifying glass to see the tiny nips and tucks at the front and rear, but the financially savvy will notice the improvements that have been made to the fuel economy and emissions of various models.

There's now a version that dips to 99g/km, earning free road tax – although to get it you'll need to add the £1,550 automatic gearbox. You'll have to do the maths on that one.

The front bumper is a little less sculpted than before, with a greater emphasis on horizontal lines. That's to cater for the tastes of larger markets than ours. The 3 Series is still an image-focused car, though, proudly displaying the correct badge for business types and feeling very much the part on the inside, too.

You could argue that when it comes to premium cars, the domination of the three-box saloon is not as strong as it once was, but there's still a strong following for what has been a hugely popular and influential model in Britain. If you've got a new 3 Series, you're doing alright.

There's a big boot behind the three rear seats, with recessed bins at the sides and a large aperture that lets you nonchalantly slot larger cases straight in. In the front there are useful door bins, and while you won't fit much into the glovebox, the cabin is very spacious for passengers.

Legroom in the back is ample, and more accommodating than it looks because the 3 Series has longer rear seat squabs than many non-premium cars that use shorter squabs to increase the appearance of space.

Leather-covered surfaces are potentially vulnerable to the rigours of family life, but that's pretty much a given in this part of the market.

The 320d is likely to be the biggest seller. The efficiency numbers are impressive and that optional eight-speed automatic gearbox is superb, despite the hefty price tag. The test car only had around 500 miles on it so the engine was almost certainly still at its tightest, but it's fair to say that it felt nowhere near as brisk as its on-paper 188bhp and 295lb/ft suggest.

What you do get is super-stable handling and oodles of grip on the larger wheels of M Sport versions, and well-controlled floatiness on the Efficient Dynamics (ED Plus) model and its tiny-looking but efficiency-boosting 16-inch alloys. Avoid the inconsistent Servotronic steering, though, which completely ruins the standard set-up's linearity and directness.

There's good visibility in all directions, which is handy because you don't sit too high. Using the iDrive is a joy these days, and if you upgrade the standard BMW Business navigation to the Professional grade you're rewarded with a wider, sharper screen with more functionality.

It's not a cheap step up, though. My pick of the options is the superb head-up display. Again, it's pricey, but once you've had it you'll wonder how you ever managed without.

With options the 320D xDrive I drove totalled £46,000. That's a terrifying, absurd figure you should run away from. A standard but very well equipped 335d, with all its lovely torque, is less than £41,000.

Many of BMW's options are simply replacing existing systems with better versions rather than adding crucial new tech, so stick as close to standard spec as you can. In Sport trim and with the automatic added, the 320d is arguably cheaper to own than rivals from Mercedes, Audi and Jaguar.

This is a car with a long-standing trail of success in this country, but its days as the default upgrade from a Mondeo or Passat have been ended by the spurge of crossovers and compact SUVs, most of which are waving the 'premium' flag as hard as they can. The BMW might be becoming the understated choice, but it still drives and handles better than any of its high-riding rivals.

This car summed up in a single word: Classic

If this car was a: kitchen table it would be from the mainstay range at an oak furniture shop. It's robust, looks smart and feels solid, carrying with it a style that will never go out of fashion.

Nine-goal thriller is full of drama for Sports

Dudley Sports 5 Bromyard 4

A remarkable West Midlands Premier game at Dudley Sports yielded a match filled with drama with nine goals, two penalties and a sending-off.

Sports took the lead on five minutes when Shepherd Machingauta raced clear to get the ball into the net and put his side on the score-board.

With less than half an hour of the game gone the score was upped to 2-0.

Bromyard's Martin Newman was sent off after handling on the line and although Stuart Hillman's penalty was saved by the visiting goalkeeper, Aaron Gordon followed up and put the ball away to boost the score.

Not to be outdone 10-man Bromyard got themselves back into the game minutes later. The re-surge came through Dan Polon heading home from a corner.

With the bit between their teeth Bromyard grabbed two goals in the space of four minutes, through Martin Dobson and Dan Scheppel, to put the visitors ahead.

Sports showed real grit and drew level on 48 minutes as Machingauta headed home a Hillman cross.

Bromyard made it 4-3 on the hour when Josh Wetherby scored from the spot.

Yet again Sports came back this time it was captain Tom Watkins who scored from the edge of the box.

Fittingly, the game was settled by a superb goal.

This time it was Hillman who sent in a crashing volley from 25 yards.

Rangers are taken down by Sporting

Wolves Sporting 6 Smethwick Rangers 3

WOLVES Sporting moved back up to sixth place in the West Midlands Premier with a superb win against form side Smethwick Rangers.

The visitors had been unbeaten in six but were three down in rapid time thanks to goals from Daniel Westwood, Kyle Delaney and Nathan Cain.

Wolves also hit a post and Jon Letford missed a good headed chance from six yards.

Smethwick hit back to cut the arrears to 3-2, but in the second half another fast start by the home team saw Chris Brown net twice either side of Letford bagging his second.

A late goal for Rangers took no gloss off the result for Sporting, who have netted 38 goals in their last 10 games.

Wrens Nest enjoy a high five

Wrens Nest 5 FC Stafford 3

FC Stafford's absences and injuries proved too much as they went down 5-3 at Wrens Nest following a poor second-half performance.

With Jon Warburton facing a further three months out and Alex Barnfather missing for the next month through injury, Stafford welcomed back Thomas Duffy and Andy Willacy to the starting line-up.

Stafford started this West Midlands Division One game well, pressing Wrens into their own 18-yard box.

The visitors managed to create opportunities but Ben Smith and Duffy were unable convert.

Wrens were always going to be a threat and underlined that when Chris Rhodes headed home their first attempt of the half from a wide free-kick. Shortly after they doubled the lead, scoring after Stafford failed to clear a corner.

That left keeper Steve McCabe having conceded two goals without touching the ball in play.

Stafford remained positive and kept moving the ball, looking for openings. Duffy was unfortunate not to score his tenth of the season as his effort beat the keeper but was hacked off the line.

But Duffy did have an important impact as his free-kick was met by captain Dave Wilcock who powered his header into the net to give Stafford some hope.

And on 44 minutes Smith grabbed the equalised. Good work from Duffy saw him round the keeper and set up Smith for a tap-in.

After the break Wrens started the better and but for the efforts of McCabe in the Stafford goal the hosts would have regained the lead.

Wrens then hammered their way back in front from a goalmouth scramble. Duffy won a free-kick and brushed himself off to bring Stafford level again.

But on 81 minutes came heartbreak for Stafford and joy for the Nest as a deflected corner was stabbed into his own net by Sam Waterfall. Stafford pressed and the home team netted a late fifth.

Glassboys edge into next round of cup

Halesowen 1 Stourbridge 2

STOURBRIDGE manager Gary Hackett felt his team just about deserved to edge the FA Trophy game in a tight contest ahead of a big week for his club.

The opening stages of the derby were understandably nervy but the game came to life after 22 minutes when Stourbridge's Chris Lait crossed for Matt Dodd whose header hit the bar.

The teams went into the changing rooms level at half-time after the sides scored a goal a piece in a six-minute spell.

Stourbridge led when influential former Yeltz midfielder Tom Tonks played a neat interchange with Dodd before picking out the unmarked Stuart Pierpoint.

With a shot at goal he smashed a brilliant 28th-minute finish into the top corner from 15 yards.

But the lead proved short-lived as Halesowen equalised after 34 minutes when Reece Hales played a neat dummy, allowing Keyon Refell to advance with pace and hit a low cross for Aaron Daniels to turn home with perfect timing.

Attrition

The second half soon developed into a battle of attrition as each side strived to gain control of the match with a 73rd-minute penalty appeal from Halesowen's Refell being turned down by the officials.

The Glassboys struck their 79th-minute winner when Karl Hawley glanced home a close-range header off the underside of the crossbar after Justin Richards whipped across a free-kick from the left.

Refell missed a late opportunity to level for the Yeltz when he sliced wide from 10 yards.

Tivs pull back to even up the score

Garfield Robinson jinks past a Tividale defender during the derby match

Tividale 1 Chasetown 1

A topsy-turvy game saw Chasetown extend their unbeaten run to four matches thanks mainly to goalkeeper John Bateman.

Chasetown started brightly and had the lion's share of the possession, keeping Evo-Stik Division One South bottom club Tividale firmly camped inside their own half.

Despite the territorial advantage, Thomas Turner in the Tividale goal was relatively untroubled with direct shots at goal, with James Dance firing wide, Stan Mugisha driving over the bar and a Rhys Thompson free-kick right on the edge of the box striking the defensive wall.

It was still no surprise though when Chasetown took the lead.

A corner was headed back into the danger area by Joe Halsall and a slight obstruction by his own defender caused Turner to spill a regulation catch straight to the feet of Ryan Winter.

Winter took a couple of touches to make the chance easier but comfortably netted his fifth goal of the season. The lead was short-lived as Chris Rabone was sent tumbling in the penalty area and Chris Sterling confidently converted the spot-kick.

Town lose grip on the game in second half

Pegasus Jrs 5 Tipton Town 2

TIPTON Town's first ever visit to the splendid Pegasus ground in Old School Lane, Hereford culminated in a convincing defeat following an insipid second-half performance from the visitors.

Tipton had battled well in the first period of the match to turn it around so it was all square at 1-1 in the West Midlands Premier clash.

Sean Pearson put Pegasus ahead on 12 minutes but the Black Country club equalised through a splendid Ravi Sangha strike just six minutes later which meant the game was on and it could be a case of who blinks first.

Honours remained pretty even for the remainder of the half but no one could see what is coming when the visitors' performance was, unaccountably, to dip sadly in the second period, allowing the home club and their leading scorer Pearson to run riot and take their opponents out of the running.

Tipton's second-half showing lacked a great deal of the energy they had displayed in the first period and which had kept them in the game.

However, several of the Town defenders were being too easily brushed aside.

Pearson ended up with four goals for Pegasus, Cory Hyde scoring the other as the visitors' Matt Weyman provided a little second-half consolation by netting.

Manager Paul Totney will be looking for a huge improvement this week when local rivals Wolverhampton Casuals will be visiting Tipton Sports Academy.

Albion need to 'go back to the basics'

CHRIS BRUNT wants Albion to go back to basics at home in order to stop conceding so many goals.

The Baggies have picked up just four points from six games at The Hawthorns this season.

Tony Pulis' side have been defensively sound away from home but at home they've lost three games 3-2.

"We pride ourselves on not conceding goals and at home this season it's been difficult for us," said Brunt. "We've only won here once and we've conceded three goals on a few occasions so that's obviously something we have to address as a team. I'm sure we'll look at it this week."

"I think maybe it's about time we went back to basics at home and made sure we were difficult to beat," said Brunt.

Baggies are outfoxed at Hawthorns

Albion 2 Leicester 3

JAMIE Vardy stole the headlines by becoming only the third person to score in eight consecutive Premier League games. It was a breakthrough goal brimming with confidence, full of class and pace.

When N'Golo Kante played the ball up to the former non-league striker in his own half, Jonny Evans would have been happy with his position.

But Vardy flicked the ball around the Northern Irishman to Danny Drinkwater, spun the other way and sprinted.

Drinkwater played a perfect through-ball and Vardy was away.

There was no catching him, and his finish into the side netting seemed never in doubt.

That goal turned out to be a winner, and so just like Astle Day six months ago, Leicester fought back from behind to win 3-2 and take all three points away from The Hawthorns.

Evans had been warned earlier on in the match when Marc Albrighton threaded through a ball to his striker.

Vardy twisted and turned, and in the process turned Evans inside out before hitting the inside of the post.

Apart from those two moments though, the centre-half had another good game, covering Chris Brunt when he shot up the left flank and making split-second decisions key to any defender.

There will be question marks about Albion's defence for Riyad Mahrez's two goals though.

The Foxes started brightly, but Albion worked themselves into the game and when Salomon Rondon headed in his second goal in two games, it sparked the home side into life.

Ashley joins the board to oversee the sale of Wolves

WOLVES have appointed a new director to their board in the wake of Steve Morgan's departure.

Ashley Lewis, a long-time business associate of Wolves' ex-chairman, was formerly with Manchester City for more than 20 years, and has replaced Morgan.

Morgan has acted to install finance expert Lewis as he bids to ease the transition between owners. He put the club up for sale in September, just 48 hours after being verbally abused by supporters following Wolves' 1-1 draw at Deepdale against Preston.

Morgan has yet to speak publicly about his bombshell exit, but it is believed family reasons, as well as supporter dissatisfaction, were behind the shock walkout.

Lewis will act as Morgan's eyes and ears on the board and help facilitate the sale of the club. He joins Jez Moxey, John Gough and John Bowater on the board.

Bridgemore Group, of which Morgan is chairman, own Wolves and Morgan was keen to have a company representative on the board during what may be a protracted sale process.

Garde sees size of the task at Villa

Spurs 3 Villa 1

NEW Aston Villa manager Remi Garde saw his team well beaten at White Hart Lane.

Villa remain bottom of the table after their seventh straight Premier League defeat.

And despite showing the fight for a battle against relegation, they need a dramatic boost from the changing of the Garde after taking only four points from their first 11 games.

Mousa Dembele fired Tottenham ahead after only three minutes and Dele Alli made it 2-0 on the stroke of half-time. Villa surprisingly pulled one back when Jordan Ayew's 79th-minute shot was deflected but a fine strike from Harry Kane in stoppage time made sure of the win for Spurs.

Garde's was a watching brief only with the match kicking off hours after he took charge.

To add to Villa's woe, captain Micah Richards learned shortly before kick-off that he was suspended after admitting a misconduct charge from the Football Association relating to the loss against Swansea.

Without their skipper, Villa started poorly and fell behind inside three minutes. As if to highlight their many struggles, Spurs' Mousa Dembele collected a third-minute pass from Danny Rose on the left wing before cutting inside to the penalty area, easing past Ciaran Clark - starting in Richards' absence - and sending a left-footed shot through Brad Guzan's legs.

For a team so obviously bereft of confidence it seemed likely to be only the first of several goals that would soon follow.

The result not only consigned the visitors to further misery, it also meant their worst start to a top-flight season since 1919.

If Garde has taken one piece of knowledge from the match it is the size of the task he now faces.

Debut for Judge in half marathon

IT'S been a busy fortnight for athletes from Dudley Kingswinford Running Club.

Darren Judge made his debut in the blue hoops clocking 1.55.28 in the Leicester Half Marathon and Andy Litchfield finished in a time of 1.42.40 over the same distance in the Stroud Half Marathon.

Further south Simon Blizzard made it two personal best performances in two races backing up his Birmingham Half performance by travelling to Portsmouth to take part in the Great South Run over 10 miles and coming away with a 1.06.01 time and 320th place.

Closer to home a trio took part in Wolverhampton & Bilston's Coven Canter over 10k with John Andrews bringing them home in 49th place in 49.17, Lyn Sprague finished in 53rd in 49.42 and John Glover clocked 54.52 in 88th place.

Further afield a group travelled to the Emerald Isle to take part in the Dublin Marathon putting months of hard training to the test over the classic 26.2 mile distance.

On a tough course and in poor weather Dave Norman was first of the DK contingent to cross the line in 3.04.56 to take 551st place out of more than 15,000 starters. Steve Wood was 780th in 3.11.28 and Mark Judge finished in a respectable 3.17.46 to take 1081st.

Samantha Hemming came home with the performance of the day to clock a PB by half an hour finishing in 4.47.00 to smash her expected target.

A team travelled to Mansfield and the blue hoops of Ben Foster, Matt Biggs, James Wright and a late replacement in Simon Hughes came a very impressive 85th out of 206 teams competing

WOLVES GOT OJO WORKING

Blues 0 Wolves 2

CHOOSING next week's lottery numbers will be easier to predict than this Wolves team.

Defeat after defeat after defeat, followed by an almost faultless away performance at St Andrew's, perfectly executed by a disciplined, organised and resolute side that knew exactly what its game plan was, and stuck to it.

Wolves won comfortably. Against a team they started the day nine points behind. So who saw that coming?

Kenny Jackett might have done, and he cannot be praised enough for masterminding what was an important victory, both in terms of supporter morale, and the bigger picture of the play-offs.

In reducing the gap to sixth-placed Blues to six points, it keeps their heads above water in the play-off race.

It also eases the pressure on Jackett, who knows that a season of drifting aimlessly along in mid-table obscurity with no hope of a push at the top six would probably cost him his job.

Surprise

But aside from a well-planned and well-delivered strategy, there was more behind this surprise victory.

Wolves have now won five Championship games this season, three of them since Steve Morgan's bombshell departure in late September.

And while any upturn or downturn in form cannot be attributed to the club being put up for a sale, a sudden change in transfer policy certainly can.

Morgan long campaigned for the virtues of youth in the Wolves squad, bankrolling the new training academy, and it is believed the policy to flood the first team with 'young and hungry' talent came directly from the top.

It is a policy Jackett has happily (in the public domain at least) worked within, largely untroubled.

But Wolves have gone to extreme lengths to continue that policy of late, shearing the squad of any players aged 30 or over, and of course controversially selling Richard Stearman for just £2m, electing instead to let the 20-year-olds Dominic

Iorfa and Kortney Hause be given room to blossom and develop at centre-half.

With Iorfa - as is Jackett's preference - playing at right-back and Hause injured, that decision has proved folly, just weeks after it was enacted. And with Morgan gone Wolves have, low and behold, performed a complete U-turn and this week brought in a 31-year-old and a 34-year-old, in Mike Williamson and Grant Holt.

Experience has been one of the many attributes lacking in Wolves' season so far, but in Williamson and Holt they added 847 games' worth to their ranks in the space of two days.

And, in Williamson, what an instant difference it made on Saturday. The centre-half, who has been there and done it with Newcastle, was magnificent.

Confusing? Yes, but better Wolves change their minds now and add a couple of wise heads, rather than pig-headedly stick to a philosophy that was taking them nowhere, in the short term at least.

Elsewhere the dominant Kevin McDonald and the composed Iorfa were part of a solid defensive unit that rendered Emiliano Martinez's gloves an unused item.
